Macks.
A Mixture of Finest OLEO and Pure BUTTER
Margarine

6d ½lb.

NICER FLAVOUR
than 9/10ths of butter sold

We can show anybody the original of this and many other unsought testimonials:

"It has been greatly appreciated and considered superior to the best quality butter obtainable at present in London."

"My people could not detect the difference between your margarine and real butter."

Neither could anybody—in Taste or Nourishment.

Macks.

1lb. of Macks contains the same nourishment as 1lb. best butter, for it is made of best butter and highly refined animal fats—not of vegetable fats of lower food value.

Butter has NO advantages over Macks.

Manufactured under ideal conditions by W. & C. McDonnell, Ltd., Waterford.

AN EYE-OPENER.
Enthusiasm is aroused by something really good, and we admit that we are enthusiastic about the
ENFIELD-ALLDAY
FOUR SEATER LIGHT CAR.
At every point the Enfield-Allday satisfies.
1—There is extreme comfort and entire absence of fatigue, due to well-designed bodywork.
2—Hill-climbing on the Enfield-Allday gives that feeling of exhilaration only obtained when a car is taking a hill on top gear, with power to spare.
3—Gear changing is very easy, but rarely needed.
4—Steering is extremely light.
5—The engine is most flexible.
6—In a chassis so full of good points it is hard to emphasise any one feature, but the springing of the Enfield-Allday is well worthy of note.
The Enfield-Allday is a big Car in miniature.
THE TAX IS ONLY £10.
PRICE WITH COMPLETE EQUIPMENT, £525.
Please call to see the Enfield-Allday on exhibition at our Showrooms.

RUGBY.

SCHOOLS' INTERPROVINCIAL.

LEINSTER v. MUNSTER.

Two changes have been notified in the Leinster team, which meets Munster to-day at Lansdowne road at 2 o'clock, Murray (Blackrock) and Bray (Wesley) replacing O'Brien (St. Columba's) and Johnstone (Andrew's). Team:—

Full back—Nowlan (Mountjoy).

Three-quarter backs—Odbert (Blackrock), Beere (Andrew's), Halpin (Mountjoy), Crowe (Blackrock).

Half-backs—Murray (Blackrock), Jacobs (Wesley).

Forwards—Durcan, Keating, Smith (Blackrock), Fitzpatrick (Wesley), O'Reilly (Benedict's), Bray (Wesley), Bell (High School), Hannigan (Mountjoy)

LANSDOWNE v. INSTONIANS.

A match will be played at Lansdowne road on Saturday next between Lansdowne and Instonians, the winners of the Leinster and Ulster Senior Cups, respectively. It should prove one of the most interesting games of the season. On their recent form the Instonians must be about the best XV. playing at present in Ireland, and it is not improbable that they will reverse the result of their previous match with Lansdowne.

FIXTURES.

To-day—Schools Interprovincial—Leinster v. Munster, Lansdowne road, 2 p.m.

April 15—Lansdowne v. Instonians. Lansdowne rd.

Some criticisms of last Saturday's International, and Sketches. See "Irish Field," published Saturday next.—(Advt.)

NATIONAL BALLOON RACE IN AMERICA.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 30.—Milwaukee has been selected as the starting-point for the 1922 National Balloon Race. The start will be made on May 31. Ten balloons have already been entered, three of them to represent the Army and three the Navy. The remainder are entries of sportsmen from various parts of the country.—(Reuter.)

LEICESTER.

SOUTH CROFTY WINS DURHAM PLATE.

BAD WEATHER, BUT GOOD SPORT.

Cottrill saddled several much-fancied horses at Oadby, but was unable to continue the good fortune which has been attending his stable, three of his candidates gaining but minor places in successive races at the outset, whilst later Lillywhite did no better in the Three-Year-Old Handicap than her Catterick running had suggested.

This latter event was taken in very ready style by Varinka, another of the three-year-olds that could not be trained in their first season. He figured practically at the foot of the handicap, which discounts the performance somewhat. Still, another 14lb. might not have stopped him. The horse in which Cottrill had most hopes was Naine, who had done so well at Liverpool. She is, however, not very big, and in size and looks the Murida filly quite outclassed her. This is an own sister to Bumble Bee, and her longer stride enabled her to wear down Donoghue's mount, whilst the latter was also to a great extent handicapped by the going.

Mrs. Whitburn was present to see Naine carry her colours, and was naturally disappointed by the reverse in the Durham Plate. The favourite, Star Regal, fell a hundred yards from the finish, but it made no difference to the result, for South Crofty had already taken his measure. The latter is a good-looking Black Jester colt, who had not run before. It appeared as though Star Regal had broken his back, but after lying a few minutes motionless on the ground he got up, and, no doubt, his collapse was due to distress. Elliott got off with a sprained wrist.

Walter Griggs again exploited his £24 purchase, Island Lord, with success in the Melton Selling Plate, the horse, as at Derby, getting home with plenty to spare. He was now knocked down to the trainer of the second, Lady Clara, for 450 guineas, but Griggs subsequently told me he had got his horse back by giving Cottrill a profit on his bargain. This was only the second winning ride of the apprentice, Jones, but in the West of England he has ridden over two hundred winners at unregistered meetings.

Much the easiest win of the afternoon was that of the hurdler, Llangarren, who simply cantered away with the Bottesford Welter Handicap.

Jockeys' mounts for to-day include—Evans, Speen; Jellis, Take All and Callernish; Smyth, Maid of Worksop; Shatwell, Napoli; Dines, Ulula.

The only horse backed for money last evening for the City and Suburban was, once more, Granely, who travelled well at 7 to 2, without reducing the price. Monarch was quiet at 15 to 2; Paragon advanced to 17 to 2; and Evander and Crubenmore were quoted at the rates appended. For the Derby 10 to 1 was obtainable on the field, with Pondoland and Captain Cuttle in joint command. Of the others Craigangower and Norseman went the best. Quotations:—

YACHTING.

THE TAILTEANN GAMES.

YACHTING SECTION.

A meeting of the Yachting Sub-Committee was held yesterday afternoon at Emerald Chambers, Abbey street, Dublin. It was proposed by Mr. A. McMullen, and seconded by Mr. Hubert Kennedy, and carried unanimously, that Mr. W. B. B. Graham should be elected chairman, and Mr. Miles M. Kelly (Irish Field) hon. sec. to the committee. In order to widen the scope of the latter, and to have the assistance of representative Irish yachtsmen, the following gentlemen were co-opted on the committee:—Sir Thomas Myles, Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart.; Sir Walter H. Boyd, Bart. (Howth S.C.); Mr. A. R. O'Conor (R. Irish Y.C.); Mr. F. St. J. Worrall (R. Alfred Y.C.); Mr. G. A. Newsom (Edward Y.C.); Mr. Hume Dudgeon (R. Irish Y.C.); Mr. E. H. Andrews (Seapoint B.C.), and Mr. G. F. Porter (Clontarf Y. and B.C.).

It having been intimated by the General Committee of the Tailteann Games that the idea of money prizes, even for yacht racing, was against the spirit of the Olympic principle, the Sub-Committee considered the matter in this new light, and, subject to the approval of the Tailteann Games Committee, they suggest that they take over all the cost of the provision of medals for the winning yachts and boats at the two-day Olympic Regatta in August, and, further (if the idea be approved of), that they would provide the amateur crews of these yachts and boats with replica medals to commemorate the occasion. In other words, and subject, of course, to the will of the Tailteann Games Committee, it is the desire of the Sub-Committee to take over the full burden of the Olympic Regatta, and to offer every inducement to owners to race, and to amateurs to take part in the matches.

Since the last (the inaugural) meeting of the Sub-Committee was held, the prospects for the regatta have further improved, but the strength of this year as a yachting season will not be known fully for a month or so, when yachts will be put into commission. The regatta fund has been very well supported thus far, mainly by donations and guarantees coming from clubs, and chiefly from the R. St. George Y.C., R. Irish Y.C., and R. Alfred Y.C. Howth S.C. also has sent in a guarantee, and the committees of other clubs have the proposal before them. As a matter of fact, however, the present is a period of marking time, awaiting the opening of the sailing season next month.

This being so, the Committee adjourned sine die.

HOWTH SAILING CLUB.

The Spring general meeting was held recently in the Marine Hotel, Sutton. After the adoption of the Hon. Treasurer's statement of accounts, which showed a satisfactory balance, the following officers were elected for 1922:—Commodore, Sir W. H. Boyd, Bart., K.C.; Vice-Commodore, Mr. R. J. Richardson. Committee—Messrs. R. Noel Guinness, C. Courtney, H. D. Pearson, R. J. Newcome, John Maxwell, and Robert Hall. Captains—Class I.—Mr. P. T. Walshe. Class II.—Mr. J. G. Franks. Hon. Sec.—Mr. J. Stuttard. Hon. Treasurer—Mr. A. W. Mooney.

Racing will start on Saturday, 13th May.

It was decided that the club would do all in its power to support the yacht racing to be held in connection with the Tailteann Games in August.

GOLF.

£1,000 TOURNAMENT.

Thirty-five players of the Northern and Midland sections qualified for the final stages of the Daily Mail £1,000 Tournament yesterday, 22 of them being from the Northern section, played at Hopwood Park, Manchester, and 13 from the Midland section at Burton. In each case there were special trophies to the winners, J. W. Gaudin (Alwoodley) winning the Leeds Challenge Cup in the Northern, and J. Adwick (Olton) the Midland Challenge Cup in the Midlands. The Northern section quickly produced a surprise, for while interest centred on the better known players, G. Walton, the young Lytham and St. Anne's player, came in undemonstratively with a 70, which beat Duncan's record for the course by three strokes. Walton started moderately, but had a magnificent home half of 33. His score was equalled late in the day by H. Spalding (Prestwick). Havers played well, except that his drives were erratic, but he was always comfortably placed for qualification. J. W. Gaudin had two steady rounds, and, with 75 and 72, won the premier position and the Leeds Challenge Cup.

Other Sporting News will be found on Page 8.

There was a notable failure in the Midland section in Tom Williamson, four times Midland champion, who failed to secure one of the 13 places. The winner was J. Adwick, a 35 years old professional, who returned a 73 in the morning, and, playing through torrential rain, a 75 in the afternoon. He was 5 strokes better than his nearest competitor. Holland qualified, but did not distinguish himself, and a first round of 81 ruined his chance of retaining the Midland Cup. G. Tuck and M. Bingham tied for 16th place, and played off another 18 holes, Bingham winning by a single stroke in 78.

SWIMMING.

NEW LDAIES' RECORD.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 24.—Two new world's swimming records were claimed at the Amateur Athletic Union meeting here to-night. Miss Sybil Bauer, representing the Illinois Athletic Club, broke her own record of 1 minute 17 seconds in the 100 yards back stroke, swimming the distance in 1 minute 16 4-5 seconds. Miss Eleanor Coleman, representing the Milwaukee Athletic Club, broke the 50 yards breast stroke record when she swam the distance in 38 1-5 seconds, 1 1-5 seconds faster than the former record, held by Miss Ruth Smith, of Columbus.—(Reuter.)

CLONTARF CLUB.

At the annual general meeting, held in the Town Hall, Clontarf, the President, Mr. J. F. Curran, and subsequently Mr. W. L. Freeman, occupied the chair. The report of the Hon. Secretary, Mr. L. M. F. Everard, and the statement of accounts of the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. D. P. O'Neill, were adopted unanimously. The election of officers for the ensuing season resulted as follows:—President, Mr. J. F. Curran; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. P. Cullen, W. L. Freeman, M. Gartland, D. C. Maher, J. J. McGrane, J. C. O'Sullivan, W. M. Porter, E. H. Taylor. Captain, S. Barrett; vice-captain, T. H. Corrigan. Hon. auditors, T. J. Morrison and G. Devin. Hon. handicappers, A. J. Cullen and S. Barrett. Committee—H. F. Brennan, A. J. Cullen, B. G. Fagan, B.Sc.; H. J. Healy, A. Healy, R. Dexter. Delegates to the Leinster Branch, I.A.S.A.—H. F. Brennan, T. H. Corrigan, A. J. Cullen, and L. M. F. Everard. Hon. secretary, L. M. F. Everard, 111 St. Lawrence road, Clontarf. Hon. treasurer, D. P. O'Neill, 79 Hollybrook road, Clontarf. It was announced that a memorial shield, styled the "Charles Killingley Memorial Shield," would be added to the club trophies to be competed for this season. The members were earnestly requested to support the swimming magazine, to be produced under the auspices of the Leinster Branch, I.A.S.A. Mr. H. F. Brennan, a member of the Committee, who has been appointed chairman of the Swimming Sub-Committee of the Tailteann Games, to be held in August next, explained the position as regards swimming, and called for the co-operation of the members in making the swimming section a success.

THEATRE ROYAL MATINEE.

BURT KENNY DISQUALIFIED.

An interesting feature of the matinée held in the Theatre Royal yesterday on behalf of the wounded men of the I.R.A. was an exhibition given by the feather-weight champion, Johnny Kilbane, with his sparring partner, Al Ziemer. The world's champion, on stepping into the ring, received a warm ovation from the well-filled house. In response to calls for a speech, he said that when he came to visit a country and was called on for a speech he always preferred to put on the gloves to talking. He alluded to the fact of his people having been born in "this wonderful isle," and added that he had come over on a short visit to Mayo to see where they were born. He wanted to say that he was "very tickled" to be there with them, and assured the audience that if there was anything he could do to derive money for their poor he would at all times be at their service. He then proceeded to box three rounds with Ziemer, and the exhibition showed the champion to be wonderfully fast and clever.

Five contests made up the bill for the evening, but one of the two principal bouts, that between Wild Burt Kenny, the Irish-American, and Albert O'Neill, an Australian, now resident in Manchester, proved a fiasco. It was from the outset a rough-and-tumble affair, characterised by heavy slogging and holding. Wild Burt Kenny was, indeed, very wild, and the referee had anything but a pleasant task in breaking the men from the clinches, while the "house" showed its disapproval of the methods adopted by the boxers. O'Neill was the better of the two in what little boxing there was in the four rounds fought, and it was a relief when, half-way through the fifth round, Kenny was disqualified for tripping.

The best fight of the series was the ten-round contest between Tommy Moloney and Jack Delany, two local lads, which went the full distance, and was won by Moloney, who had the advantage in height and reach. It was a very even, splendidly-fought bout for the first five rounds, but Moloney, who was a little in front at the half-way stage, gradually forged ahead, and, using both hands effectively in the last few rounds, was a clear winner when the referee decided in his favour.

Billy Gilmour (Belfast) gained the flat over Battling Brannigan (Waterford) in a ten two-minute round contest. It was a finely contested bout. It opened tamely enough, but in the second round each warmed to his work. Half-way through Gilmour was leading on points, and, although Brannigan made a capital fight of it all through, the other was a deserving winner.

Jack Doyle (Dublin), owing to an accident, was unable to go into the ring with Jack Byrne, and his place was taken by Jack O'Hare. There was a lot of clinching, and the referee was very busy. O'Hare, being untrained, tired in the second round, and early in the third meeting he refused to continue, and the referee declared Byrne the winner.

The fifteen two-minute round contest between the welter-weights, Pat McAllister (Belfast) and Jim How (Wales) was also more or less spoiled by clinching. McAllister was always scoring with jabs to the face, while How was very busy with right body punches. McAllister, however, was always ahead on points, and was a good winner when the referee awarded him the fight.

BOXING IN CANADA.

Montreal, March 29.—Fifteen rounds instead of ten will be permitted in bouts staged here, under a law which comes into effect this week. To balance the increase in the length of bouts, the yearly fee charged promoters who present boxing exhibitions is raised from 500 dollars to 5,000 dollars. Boxing will be administered by a commission of five, one member to be a physician. It is proposed ultimately to place all forms of professional athletics, including baseball, lacrosse, and hockey, under the control of the Boxing Commission.—(Reuter.)

IRISH ATHLETICS.

LETTER FROM DR. R. J. ROWLETTE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The statement made to-day in your article under the above heading, that a scheme of athletic reform in Ireland, prepared by Mr. J. J. Keane, "was turned down by the representatives of the I.A.A.A.," is untrue, and, in consequence, your gloomy anticipations as to the future of athletics in Ireland, are, I am glad to say, unnecessary. As the whole trend of your article is misleading, it is necessary to state briefly what the present position is.

You refer to the resolution passed unanimously at the annual meeting of the Irish Amateur Athletic Association, accepting the invitation of the Inter-University Athletic Association to discuss with representatives of that body and of the Gaelic Athletic Association "how athletics could be benefited in Ireland," and declaring that "there should now be no insuperable obstacle to arriving at a working agreement between the two Associations." This resolution was conveyed to the authorities of the Gaelic Athletic Association, and in reply the Secretary of the Athletic Council of that body expressed the opinion that no useful purpose would be served by such a conference at present, but that Mr. Keane, the Chairman of the Athletic Council, would be willing to discuss "unofficially" with representatives of the Irish Amateur Athletic Association the scheme he had recently drafted regarding the future management of athletics in Ireland.

Availing ourselves of Mr. Keane's courtesy, Mr. H. M. Finlay, Mr. J. T. Graham, and I had an "unofficial," and, as we believed, private, conversation with Mr. Keane last Monday, Mr. O'Hanrahan, Secretary of the Tailteann Games, being also present. Mr. Keane kindly gave us an opportunity of studying the proposals he intends to make to the Congress of the Gaelic Athletic Association next Sunday. They include, inter alia, the paragraphs quoted in your article.

It was not in the power of my colleagues and myself to "turn down" the proposals, or, on the other hand, to commit our Association to accept them. It is clear that a proposal to wind up the Irish Amateur Athletic Association, and advise its constituent clubs to join a new body, whose very existence is still in doubt, would require careful consideration. So far, however, from "turning down" a consideration of Mr. Keane's scheme, my colleagues and I welcomed it as a step which would render co-operation more easy, and might lead to the desirable end of unifying the control of athletics in Ireland.

The position at present is that the Irish Amateur Athletic Association has accepted the invitation issued by the Inter-University Athletic Association to a conference at which no proposal for the benefit of athletics in Ireland is debarred from discussion. It is unfortunate that at a moment when among members of both Associations there is a genuine desire to attain harmony, you should have given publicity to a misleading report of an unofficial conversation.—Yours, etc.,

ROBERT J. ROWLETTE.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

The new Irish peace conference will take place in the Dublin Mansion House to-day.—(P. 5.)

Private Taylor, Royal Army Service Corps, was shot through the head by a civilian yesterday at Kingstown. His condition is considered hopeless.—(P. 5.)

A Dublin coroner's jury yesterday found that a prisoner named Michael Sweeny had been accidentally shot by one of his escort while being taken from Beggar's Bush Barrack to Mountjoy Prison. One juror dissented.—(P. 6.)

The Grand Canal Commission in Dublin yesterday was adjourned until to-day, two of the Commissioners having retired because of the Chairman's decision that the examination of witnesses lay only with the Commissioners themselves.—(P. 6.)

The first sitting of the Belfast Conciliation Committee, which has been set up as a result of the Collins-Craig agreement, to investigate complaints of intimidation and outrage, was held in Belfast yesterday.—(P. 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. Churchill last night in the House of Commons said that the Government could neither agree to, nor tolerate, an independent Irish Republic. He believed that the Provisional Government was gradually gaining strength.—(P. 5.)

Sir Hamar Greenwood told the House of Commons yesterday that he could not promise to make more cash payments to members of the R.I.C., as the terms of disbandment were very generous.—(P. 4.)

A Bill to reconstitute the House of Lords was read a first time yesterday in the House of Commons.—(P. 5.)

Sir Ross and Sir Keith Smith will this month start out on a flight round the world.—(P. 5.)

The dignity of an earldom has been conferred on Sir Arthur Balfour.—(P. 5.)

ABROAD.

Mr. Lloyd George is to make a proposal at Genoa that the States of Europe shall agree not to take up arms against each other for a stated period.—(P. 5.)

SPORTING.

South Crofty won the Durham Plate, and Island Lord the Melton Handicap, at Leicester yesterday.—(P. 3.)

COMMERCIAL.

The London Stock Markets yesterday eased at some points, but the undertone was quite firm. Funding and Conversion Loans were strong spots. (P. 7.)

In Lombard street money was scarce early in the day, and rates ruled high; but supplies afterwards improved, and the close was easy. German marks reacted to 1,306. (P. 7.)

In Dublin some prices were lower, but the tone was good. There was a late rise in Dunlops.—(P. 7.)

Tariffs and Trade.

On the motion for the adjournment in the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Asquith raised once more the question of the Safeguarding of Industries Act. This measure was rushed through Parliament last year when the spate of legislation was at its height. Few people understood its provisions at the time; and, but for the fact that the Government commanded the uncritical support of a mechanical majority in the House of Commons, it never would have reached the Statute Book. It is, undoubtedly, a bad Act. It was conceived as a measure of protection for British industry; yet since its passing unemployment has increased and industrial distress has become more widespread. The Act is divided into two principal parts. The first deals with the protection of a whole series of small industries; the other deals with "dumping." Most of the confusion and irritation which have been caused by its enactment have arisen out of the first part. The manufacturers of some six thousand different commodities have succeeded in persuading the Government that their particular wares belong to the category of "key" industries. Many of these so-called essential manufactures never were produced in these islands until the Act was passed.

The chief effect of the Act has been to cut off the public from outside sources of supply. Work has been found for a certain number of men who otherwise would be unemployed, but on the balance the Act has thrown a far larger number out of their jobs. Mr. Asquith cited a typical case. One of the "key" industries under the Act is fabric gloves. These articles may not be imported lest the British glove trade should suffer. The town of Bolton, however, exports its cotton yarns to Germany for the precise purpose of manufacturing fabric gloves, and previously Germany's best market for these goods was England. Now that market has gone, the demand has fallen, Germany no longer wants the cotton yarns of Bolton, and Lancashire operatives are out of work because the Government is trying to "protect" another industry. Until the end of last month the Act applied to Ireland. We hope that it will be one of the first things to disappear under the new régime. So far we have had no indication of the economic policy which the Provisional Government proposes to pursue. It would be very unfair to Mr. Collins and his colleagues to expect them to formulate a trade policy while they are still struggling to their political feet; but one of these days this very vital problem must be faced.

In Britain's policy since the war Ireland has an excellent example to avoid. The temptation to build a tariff wall around the Irish Free State, doubtless, will be very strong. One hears talk about plans to make Ireland self-supporting, and to spoon-feed artificial industries at the expense of the consumer. Such a policy would be ruinous. Ireland's agricultural industry is capable of enormous development, and by the export of live stock and produce she will be able comfortably to satisfy all her needs in other respects. If her rulers are wise, they will open Ireland's markets to the competition of the world. In this way, and only in this way, can the prosperity of this country be assured. Existing industries, of course, should be encouraged, and, where they are really necessary, new ventures should be supported; but the danger is that, just as in the case of England, everybody will be starting a "key" industry, for which he will demand fiscal protection, and the poor consumer's interests will be ignored. The removal of all the present restrictions on foreign trade will go a long way towards the cheapening of the cost of living in this country. The adoption of a sound economic policy will complete that good work.

Disbanded.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Churchill made a grave, but not unhopeful, speech on Irish affairs. He dealt at some length with the position of the Royal Irish Constabulary, who, on the eve of disbandment, cannot find a home in their own land. No doubt, the Provisional Government would be glad to be able to protect them; but we must face the facts. Since the date of the Treaty, Mr. Churchill said, nineteen members of the force have been shot dead, and none of the murderers has been brought to justice. The future safety and welfare of the men of the Royal Irish Constabulary are an indefeasible charge on the honour of Great Britain. Disbandment will be complete at the end of May, and before that time every member of the force, with his family, ought to be assured of shelter and maintenance in some part of the British Dominions. Mr. Churchill seems to recognise that something more is needed than a free railway warrant for the 2,000 men who already have decided to bring their wives and children to England. He is ready to consider the establishment of a camp where they could live together until they had found employment in civil life. If this plan is adopted, we hope that full pay will not cease from the moment of disbandment, but will be continued for a short period—say, until the end of July. Such an arrangement would help to take the sharp edge off the ordeal with which all these brave servants of the Crown are now confronted. This, however, is only one aspect of the matter. The officers and men of the force are dissatisfied with the Government's treatment of their claims, and ask for a more generous assessment of pensions and compensation allowances. Mr. Churchill maintains that the proposed terms are sufficiently liberal; but the Government is dealing with a very uncommon—indeed, an almost unique—set of circumstances. A force which has given magnificent service to the Empire not only is being disbanded, but is being sent, virtually, into exile. It will be a lamentable thing if these men carry out of Ireland a feeling that the Government for whose sake they have risked their lives and lost their homes has been ungrateful to them. That misfortune ought to be avoided at any legitimate cost.

Shipbuilding.

A new misfortune has been averted from Belfast by the sensible decision of its shipyard workers. They have decided to accept the wages reduction of 10s. 6d. a week, which was proposed by the employers, and there will be no stoppage in Belfast's chief industry. The majority for acceptance was 2,976 in a total vote of 6,578. Messrs. Harland and Wolff and Messrs. Workman and Clark have undertaken that the question of a further "cut" of 6s. a week shall be a matter for discussion. The settlement puts these famous Irish firms—who are outside the British Employers' Federation—in a position of great advantage; for most of the British yards are idle on account of the men's refusal to accept reduced wages. It is hoped, however, that the Belfast agreement may lead to a similar settlement in Great Britain, and certainly the need of settlement is urgent. The workers have chosen for their strike a moment of almost unparalleled depression in the shipbuilding trade. In the quarter ended on December 31st, 1920, the new steamships laid down in British yards represented a total of 473,393 tons. The total for the quarter ended on March 31st, 1922, was 49,208 tons. The decline has been due not merely to an over-supply of tonnage, but to the increased cost of production. There is every prospect that the industry will perish unless the workers agree to give the employers some chance against their foreign competitors.

Tourist Resorts.

Very soon people will be making up their minds whether to spend their summer vacations at home or abroad. The British Spa Federation already has taken steps to advertise the attractions of English health resorts, and has made an appeal to the railway companies for reduced fares. On the Continent every facility is granted by railways, hotel-proprietors, and the State in order to attract foreign visitors. Consequently, every year sees hundreds of British visitors to places like Homburg, Marienbad, Biarritz, and Karlsbad, whose waters and curative properties are no better than those of many an obscure Irish village or unfrequented English spa. If Ireland is to attract tourists from England or abroad, travelling must be made cheaper, and hotels must be improved both in comfort and in price. Ceteris paribus, most people prefer the novelty of a holiday in a foreign country where customs, language, and people are new to the experience. In view of this fact, if we are to have the advantages of a good tourist traffic, our pleasure resorts ought to be organised and advertised. In this province the railway companies could do important and profitable work; and local authorities ought to ensure that visitors shall not be victimised by short-sighted "profiteers."

Wild Birds.

For some time past the promiscuous collection of all sorts of eggs—even the rarest and most precious specimens—has been a widespread evil in England; and the thoughtless specimen-hunters have either flouted or evaded the rather limited protection which is offered to birds by the law. If this practice were allowed to continue, many birds, now rare, inevitably would suffer extinction. The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds has been agitating for the revision and enforcement of the existing laws. The British Ornithologists' Union now has joined forces with it, and the Committee has declared that it desires to give every protection possible to wild birds. With this end in view all members of the Union are instructed to collect only those eggs which are essential to the interests of science. Furthermore, in districts where a certain bird is rare no eggs of such a bird ought to be collected at all. We hope that the example of the British ornithologists will be followed by Irish bird-lovers.

MENDELSSOHN'S "ELIJAH."

SYMPATHETIC RENDERING.

The second performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" at La Scala Theatre, Dublin, served to emphasise its nobility and beauty of its appeal. Mr. T. H. Weaving conducted, and had the advantage that the chorus had warmed still further to its work, and made some fine ensembles. For all that, Mr. Weaving's interpretation inclined to more delicate nuances and fineness of grading in rise and fall of massed tone than Mr. Vincent O'Brien's more sonorous and devotional reading. Both were masterly treatments of the score, the orchestral accompaniments being especially graceful and impressive. The old Scripture story was brought vividly before us as before. It is no exaggeration to say that Mr. Norman Williams sang "Elijah's" arias and duet parts with rare judgment; so much so that the time-honoured rule of "no applause" was broken at "Is not His Word like a fire?" though "Lord God of Abraham" was the better aria. The double quartet was balanced very finely by the Misses Florence Mellors, Margaret Balfour, W. Wheatley, L. Goggin, and Messrs. John Gill, Norman Williams, W. A. Manahan, and W. J. Lemass.

Miss Margaret Balfour, in "Elijah, get thee hence" and "Woe unto them" and "O Rest in the Lord," showed depth of tone and feeling; and Miss Florence Mellors sang the soprano with purity of tone and nice dramatic sense. Mr. John Gill sang "If with all your hearts" and "Man of God" with care and the musical feeling that marks all his work. In the duets with Mr. Williams he secured good tone contrasts.

CASH PAYMENTS TO R.I.C.

NO LARGER GRANTS TO BE MADE.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, replying to Lieut.-Colonel Archer Shee in the House of Commons yesterday, said that, with reference to making more cash payments to members of the Royal Irish Constabulary, he could not promise to do it. The terms of disbandment were before the House. There was no question as to their generosity, as they were better than the terms of the 1920 Act, which surpassed the 1914 Act. The real point about the Royal Irish Constabulary was not the question of larger sums of money, but of so dealing with these men, their wives, and children, that their lives and their future were secure. He assured the House that the Government was doing everything to attain that object.

As to the Auxiliary Cadets, he had gone into the whole question as to whether they had been properly treated. The matter rested upon the interpretation of the Order dealing with it which was issued on May 16 last, and which governed the whole situation. He had been supported by the advice of General Tudor, the Chief of Police, who took the view that he could not allow men who had less than nine months' service to rejoin the force. There was no question of saving money, but it was a simple question as to whether the Chief of Police's original order should be interpreted as referring to men who had served at least nine months. He gave his decision based upon the advice of the Chief of the Police, which was fair to the Cadets and fair to the public. He was at the present moment sympathetically considering certain specific cases of a number of Cadets who might be brought within the orders applying to the force.

When the Auxiliary Cadets were disbanded they were met by the heads of the police and civil administration in Ireland, and the whole question was gone into. They appointed a representative body, who signed a document agreeing to the terms upon which the force had been disbanded. They could not go behind that agreement. The terms of disbandment having already been agreed to by the men themselves and their representatives, he did not think that he ought to be asked to spend tens of thousands of pounds upon this force.

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF IRELAND.

The National Library will be closed for Easter from Good Friday till the following Tuesday, inclusive.

THE GREAT BARRIER REEF.

If you take your atlas and turn up a good map of Australia, you will see the words "Great Barrier Reef" written along the coast of the huge territory of Queensland. We think of a reef, somehow, as an attribute of one of the tiny Pacific islands; but here is one, the work of the minute coral polyp, stretching half the length of a continent. From its northern end near New Guinea, down to the so-called Swain Reefs at the 22nd degree of south latitude, it lies throughout some 1,200 miles of ocean.

Its distance from the land varies; in some places it is not more than ten miles, or even less, from the coast, while in others it is quite out of sight of an observer on shore, perhaps 100 miles away. As its distance, so its character alters—here it is a long line of dark, rugged rocks, on which the ceaseless Pacific rollers thunder and roar; there it disappears beneath the surface, and only the terrible swirl of broken waters betoken its whereabouts; again it develops into a series of islands which dot the sea in every direction.

Some of these archipelagoes are very wonderful. One in particular, some hundred miles south of Townsville, is called from its largest island "Whit Sunday Pass." Here our ship steamed for a whole day amidst the most beautiful scenery. As far as the eye could stretch, north and south, were islands, islands, and nothing but islands, some many miles long, some a few hundred of yards across, some mere dots, but all charming, green, wooded, and rocky. The sea between was as calm as a mountain lake, and one could not help thinking of what a glorious holiday would be possible with a small sailing boat and auxiliary engine. But there was no sign of life anywhere: the mainland almost uninhabited and the islands deserted.

Ships enter within the reef at the upper end from Torres Straits, the relatively narrow stretch of water which separates the great Southern continent from the biggest island in the world, that curious, unexplored land, New Guinea. The Straits, like the water inside the reef to the southward, are studded with islands, and one of them—not the largest by any means—poetically called Thursday Island, is the site of a little white settlement, and the headquarters of the pearl fishing industry. From here the boats set out on their voyages down inside the Great Barrier Reef, remaining away often for many months, and returning to dispose of their precious cargo, and to refit for their next voyage.

Just at present, owing to the uncertain state of the pearl market, the industry is virtually at a standstill, but at the time of my visit the harbour at Thursday Island was full of boats, and we met with many going to or returning from the waters of the great lagoon. What a life of adventure it is: a steady return from the shell (because, contrary to general ideas, it is the shell of the oyster which furnishes the chief source of income), with the chance at any time of finding a fortune in one single pearl!

The navigation of the waters within the reef is most difficult for ocean-going vessels, and even those lines which make the trip from Sydney and Brisbane up to the East Indies regularly always take a pilot until they are clear of its waters.

What wonderful navigators the old explorers must have been! For them there were no trained pilots, or charts, or steam engines, or wireless fittings, and yet, think of the wonders they performed!

Captain Cook has written his name here, as he has written it all over the Southern hemisphere. One of the openings in the reef bears the name of Cook's Endeavour, while opposite it is a little settlement still called Cooktown.

VIATOR.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

VICEREGAL LODGE, DUBLIN, WEDNESDAY.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, attended by Captain Howard Kerr, 11th Hussars, Aide-de-Camp, returned to the Viceregal Lodge from London to-day.

Their Excellencies, the Lord Lieutenant and the Viscountess FitzAlan of Derwent, attended by Captain the Hon. Henry FitzAlan-Howard, 11th Hussars, Assistant Private Secretary, were present at Tenebrae, at the Pro-Cathedral, Marlborough street, this evening.

The latest engagement in Court circles is that of Lord Louis Mountbatten, M.V.O., R.N., and Miss Edwina Ashley, daughter of Colonel W. W. Ashley, M.P., and granddaughter of the late Sir Ernest Cassel, who bequeathed her the bulk of his great wealth. A god-daughter of the late King Edward, Miss Ashley is just twenty years of age, and is one of the tallest girls in London society, where she is a great favourite. Her fiancé, who will be twenty-two next June, is the second son of the late Marquis of Milford Haven, formerly known as Prince Louis of Battenberg, and his wife, Princess Victoria, eldest daughter of the late Grand Duke of Hesse and Princess Alice, daughter of Queen Victoria. Lord Louis, who was appointed flag-lieutenant to H.M.S. Renown when the Prince of Wales made his Empire tour in 1920, is now acting as Naval A.D.C. to His Royal Highness, and will accompany him on his return to England. Miss Ashley is expected back early next month from her visit to Lord and Lady Reading in India.

Viscount Chaplin, whose health is completely restored, is expected shortly at Mountstewart, on a visit to the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry. The Marquis of Huntly, Viscount and Viscountess Astor, and the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Lyttleton left Southampton yesterday on the Olympic for New York. The Marquis and Marchioness of Ormonde have left London to spend Easter at Gennings, their place near Maidstone.

Lord and Lady Leconfield will start next week for South Africa, where they will stay for some time with the Hon. Hugh and Mrs. Wyndham. The former is Lord Leconfield's brother and heir, who settled in the Transvaal some twenty years ago, and is well-known as a breeder of racehorses and a successful farmer.

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place quietly at the end of April, between Francis H. Pooley, A.M.I.Mech.E., only surviving son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pooley, Bearsden, Dumbartonshire, and Kathleen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sibthorpe, 13 Leeson Park, Dublin.

Dr. Fannin has left 3 Rutland square till 18th April.

Doctor Speares has returned to 17 Lower Fitzwilliam street.

Mr. Wm. Matthews, 53 Harcourt street, has left town for one week.

Mr. W. Stewart, 34 Upper Fitzwilliam street, has left town for one week.

Mr. Norman A. Clarke, L.D.S., has left 35 Harcourt street for a week.

Miss Barry will be at 25 St. Stephen's Green from Tuesday, the 18th inst., for about ten days.

LONDON LETTER.

THE IRISH CONFERENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The news that Mr. Collins and Mr. de Valera were to meet in conference was welcomed here to-day; for the situation in Ireland is beginning to give rise to much heart-searching among those who consented to the Irish Agreement because they hoped that it would bring peace to a distressed country. These people are suggesting that conferences will prove useless, since Mr. de Valera cannot control his party; but this scarcely seems reasonable. When a truce was set up before the Agreement was signed peace was generally observed, and Mr. de Valera had his men perfectly under control then. Generally speaking, however, there is a hope that the conference will bring the different parties together to work for the setting up of a Constitution and the preservation of law and order.

A good deal of importance is attached to the manifesto of the Irish Labour Party. A high official, well acquainted with Ireland, whom I happened to meet to-day, told me that, in his opinion, the document represented the views of the great mass of people in Ireland, who were only anxious to be rid of "the man with the automatic," and get on with their work. He did not venture to prophesy what would be the outcome of the conference between the Free State and Republican leaders, but believed that any agreement which promised to end the rule of the gunmen would be ratified by civilian opinion.

CHEAP REVOLVERS.

The return of the soldiers and Auxiliaries from Ireland has been responsible for a slump in the price of revolvers, and to-day it is said to be a hopeless task to try to sell a weapon of this kind for anything approaching a reasonable price. A member of a well-known firm of gunsmiths said to-day that many men come to him asking three pounds for a Service revolver, but he cannot buy them, since they would be dear at ten shillings. So many soldiers have come back from Ireland during the past few weeks that the market is overloaded.

In the opinion of Colonel Claude Lowther, Major Christopher Lowther, Sir Arthur Cecil Beck, Admiral Seuter, and Sir Thomas Polson, the Government is not proceeding nearly fast enough with the reform of the House of Lords. These impatient spirits, therefore, produced a Bill for the purpose, and it was introduced to-day by Colonel Lowther under the ten minutes' rule. Without a single dissentient voice being raised, the requisite leave was given to introduce the Bill under the rule, and it was read a first time amid laughter and cheers.

MR. CHURCHILL'S SPEECH.

For a long time after this it seemed as if the motion for the adjournment were going to follow its normal, and somewhat dreary, course. Mr. Asquith tried to raise some sparks over the Safeguarding of Industries Bill, but he failed, and Mr. Baldwin replied to him in a somewhat perfunctory quarter of an hour. When Mr. T. P. O'Connor got in upon his favourite subject of Armenia it seemed that the end could not long be delayed. The much advertised debate upon Ireland seemed very distant, but presently Mr. Churchill and Sir Hamar Greenwood appeared in the House together, and Colonel Page Croft raised the question of what was to happen if Republicans in Ireland attempted a coup d'état.

On this subject Mr. Churchill was undoubtedly coy, and the discussion was mainly notable for a passage of arms between the Colonial Secretary and Lord Robert Cecil. Lord Robert was good enough to say that he wished "the present experiment" to succeed, but he did not try to conceal his doubt about its success. He wandered all over the events of the past two years, and made one provocative statement after another, while Sir Hamar Greenwood glared at him with hooded eyes, and Mr. Churchill fidgeted in his seat. At last Lord Robert's language got too much for his patience, and for a space of about ten minutes he was almost as much on his feet as Lord Robert. Correction, explanation, and justification followed one another in a constant stream, and when he finally ceased to interrupt audibly he continued his criticism of Lord Robert in a whisper to Sir Hamar Greenwood. When Lord Robert finally sat down it was Mr. Churchill who followed him. Though he was so much annoyed, the Colonial Secretary managed to keep himself in hand pretty well. But he justified the policy of the Government from many points of view. One thing he said was particularly pleasing to the House. That was that, if three months ago it was too soon to rejoice, it was still too soon to despair. He believed that there was a growing rally to the Provisional Government, and that, if the Provisional Government persevered, it would gradually wear down the attempt to wreck the prosperity of Ireland.

After this assurance many members left the House. Colonel Archer-Shee kept up the discussion for a time. But at twenty minutes to five the House was counted out.

The King is being kept fully acquainted with all that is taking place at Genoa, and, apart from the special wire and telephone between Genoa and the Foreign Office, there is a constant succession of King's messengers travelling to and from Italy while the Conference is going on. In view of the importance of the proceedings, the Foreign Office has improved its methods of communication with Windsor Castle, and a special staff has been installed at the Castle to deal with its messages as soon as they arrive.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

Queen Alexandra left London to-day for Sandringham, where she intends to spend a couple of months, not returning to town until the expected arrival of the Prince of Wales. During her absence Marlborough House is to undergo a thorough spring cleaning, a task of no small magnitude in a building crammed with art treasures and beautiful furniture. Queen Alexandra, who finds the air of Norfolk very beneficial, intends to be much out of doors, if the weather conditions permit, and during the day will put in much time at her charming little bungalow on the Wash at Snettisham. Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles are expected to pay Sandringham a visit about Whitsuntide.

Ireland is already beginning to pay for the luxury of allowing the de Valera Party to keep the country in a state of unrest, says the Evening News. The Easter bookings to the Emerald Isle are, naturally, not great, and that summer boom which the railway companies and the hotel proprietors had hoped for will not come unless the country settles down within the next few weeks. The biggest loss will be through the diversion of a great volume of American tourist traffic, mostly made up of Americans of Irish origin, who wanted to see Ireland under the new régime. Most of these travellers would have had their wives and families with them. That is why trips to Ireland are being cancelled as fast as they were booked earlier in the year. England and France will be the chief gainers through Ireland's loss.

EASTER HOLIDAYS.

"The Irish Times" will not be published to-morrow, Good Friday.

REPUBLIC IMPOSSIBLE.

MR. CHURCHILL'S DECLARATION.

TOO EARLY TO DESPAIR.

TO-DAY'S DUBLIN CONFERENCE.

The fear of a Republican "coup" in Ireland during the recess was discussed in the Imperial Parliament yesterday.

Mr. Churchill, while admitting that the situation was grave, argued that the Provisional Government was gradually gaining strength, and said that if some months ago it was too early to be hopeful, it was too soon yet to give way to despair.

He did not think it likely that the Provisional Government would be overthrown by the Republicans during the recess. The Government had, however, been obliged to contemplate as possible a declaration of an independent Republic by a section of the Irish people. In that event a grave decision would be forced upon the Government.

An independent Irish Republic the Government could neither agree to nor tolerate.

It is announced that the Conference between the leaders of the Treaty and the anti-Treaty parties will take place in the Dublin Mansion House to-day.

The Lord Mayor explains that, while he welcomes the Irish Labour Party's declaration in favour of peace, he has not invited it to take part in the Conference, lest such participation should fetter its future action.

THE CONFERENCE.

WHY LABOUR IS NOT INVITED.

"To consider the question of the peace" is the concise, but comprehensive, agenda for the conference which will be held at the Mansion House, Dublin, to-day.

The conference, the bringing together of which is the joint work of Archbishop Byrne and the Lord Mayor, will assemble at 3 o'clock. It will consist of

Mr. ARTHUR GRIFFITH,
Mr. MICHAEL COLLINS,
Mr. E. DE VALERA,
Mr. CATHAL BRUGHA,
ARCHBISHOP BYRNE,
LORD MAYOR O'NEILL,
Mr. STEPHEN O'MARA, senior

Mr. Stephen O'Mara has been requested to attend, as the Lord Mayor informed an Irish Times representative last night, not because of any part he has taken in latter-day politics, but because he is an old constitutional Nationalist. Mr. O'Mara happened to be in London when he received the invitation, and it is understood that he made arrangements at once to be in Dublin to-day.

While Mr. O'Mara, who is a respected citizen of Limerick, has not been prominent in recent politics, it is an interesting fact that members of his family—his two sons, Stephen and James—have taken important parts in the Sinn Fein movement, and, singularly enough, they are both in America at the present moment, one representing the party led by Mr. de Valera and the other the party of Mr. Collins. Mr. Stephen O'Mara, junior, is Mayor of Limerick, and his brother James, who is a Free Stater, was delegate in America for the big "bond drives" before the split occurred.

The Archbishop and the Lord Mayor may be regarded in connection with the conference as being non-partisan, and representing the great body of opinion which is seeking only for peace.

The report that the Irish Labour Party might be represented is not correct. It is recognised in influential circles that Labour is bound to play an important part in the settlement which is the general objective of the moment, and that its association with the present conference might to some extent compromise its position.

DUBLIN EMPLOYERS' APPROVAL.

The following statement on behalf of the Dublin Employers' Federation was handed to the Lord Mayor yesterday:—

"The Council of the Dublin Employers' Federation, at a meeting held to-day, recognising the urgent need of peace for the welfare of the country and the development of its industries, desires to express its appreciation of the action of His Grace the Most Rev. Dr. Byrne, Archbishop of Dublin, and the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor of Dublin, in arranging the Conference about to be held. The Council sincerely hopes that their efforts will be successful in securing the objects in view."

MEETING "PROCLAIMED."

MR. GRIFFITH AND SLIGO.

An order has been issued in the Sligo district, proclaiming all political meetings in that area. This would appear to include Mr. Arthur Griffith's meeting in Sligo on Sunday next, but Mr. Griffith has announced his intention to be present. Yesterday the Publicity Department of Dail Eireann issued the subjoined statement—

"President Griffith received the following telegram this (Wednesday) afternoon:—

"'All public meetings proclaimed this area by military authority to preserve peace. Is announcement you are to address public meeting at Town Hall, Sligo, Sunday, authorised by you? Reply requested latest Thursday, noon.

"'NEVIN, Mayor of Sligo.'"

"He has sent the following reply:—

"'Nevin, Mayor of Sligo.

"'Dail Eireann has not authorised, and will not authorise, any interference with the right of public meeting and free speech. I, President of Dail Eireann, will go to Sligo on Sunday next.

"'ARTHUR GRIFFITH.'"

STOLEN ARMS.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT NOT TO INTERFERE.

Mr. Churchill, replying to Mr. Rawlinson, in the House of Commons yesterday, said that 4,000 rifles, 2,200 revolvers, and six machine-guns, together with corresponding amounts of ammunition, had been handed over by the British Government to the Provisional Government.

He had, with the approval of the Cabinet, given authority for further issues to be made as required.

The reply to the questions whether any further payments or delivery of arms had been promised, and whether any condition had been made with the Provisional Government that they should restore law and order within any given time, was in the negative. As to the question whether the British Government were taking steps to recover the arms and ammunition recently stolen from one one of their vessels on the coast of Cork, he had no doubt that the Provisional Government, who were far more nearly concerned in this matter than the British Government, were taking all possible steps to recover these arms.

He was informed that since the Treaty was signed 60 rifles of those handed over to the Provisional Government had been lost by them, about 600 taken from the R.I.C., and 380 from the Admiralty.

In reply to supplementary questions, Mr. Churchill said that one armoured car, which was lent to the Provisional Government in connection with the Limerick disorders, was in the hands of those who were in a mutinous attitude towards the properly constituted authority, but it had been dismantled, and essential parts of the mechanism were removed. The British Government were not going to take measures to recover these goods in the interior of Ireland. The Provisional Government were naturally trying to secure in their own hands all the weapons loose in Ireland at present, and the British Government must leave it to them.

STATE OF IRELAND.

TALK OF A REPUBLIC.

Colonel Page Croft, in the House of Commons yesterday, called attention to the conditions prevailing in Ireland.

Chaos, he said, existed. There was no real Government in the South. Ireland was daily drifting to civil war in the South and West, and to a religious war in the North. Something like 250,000 loyalists had been abandoned in the South. What were the Government going to do if steps were taken to set up a Republic in the South?

Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson urged the Government to make some provision for the disbanded members of the Royal Irish Constabulary. He suggested that they should be accommodated in old hutments in England until they could obtain employment. It was all very well to say that they were in receipt of 30s. or £2 per week, but strangers coming to England would find it exceedingly difficult to obtain houses for their wives and families.

He had two proposals to make to the Government. As far as he could see, the danger to Mr. Collins at present was that Mr. de Valera might declare a Republic hostile to Mr. Collins's Government. Now, as he understood the position, Mr. Collins was a friend of the present Government, and it would only be a friendly act on the part of the Colonial Secretary to announce now publicly what he would do if a Republic was declared, so that Mr. Collins would know what the intention of the Government was. His second proposal was, that during the coming fortnight the Cabinet Ministers who were concerned with the administration of the Act should visit Ireland. (Laughter and cheers.)

Ireland was supposed to be a savage and barbaric country, but they had railways, roads, telegraphs, telephones, and even hotels. (Laughter.) After all, Belfast was not so far as Gairloch, nor was Cork so far as Genoa. Therefore, he felt that some members of the Cabinet should go to Ireland—North, South, East, and West, and see the conditions of the country for themselves.

Lord Robert Cecil agreed that the position of affairs in Ireland was exceedingly grave. The real truth was that to give a chance of success to this great experiment the Government ought to have carried it out in conditions of peace, and not in conditions of war. The real surrender to crime began when the Government sanctioned the policy of reprisals, and there was organised murder and arson by the servants of the Crown.

LIVELY INTERCHANGE.

MINISTER CROSS-EXAMINED.

Mr. Churchill said that the whole of this matter had been repeatedly explained to the House. When officers and men were ambuscaded and murdered under circumstances of the greatest barbarity it was quite impossible to prevent the police and military from taking reprisals on their own account.

Lord Robert Cecil said that the right hon. gentleman was repeating the excuse made by the Government.

Mr. Churchill retorted that the noble lord was repeating charges made by the I.R.A.

Lord Robert Cecil asked whether the Government would even now grant the impartial inquiry which had been asked for repeatedly and refused. He said, deliberately, that in the summer of 1920 the Government, or some members of it, intimated to the armed forces in Ireland that they might take the law into their own hands. That charge had never been denied.

Mr. Churchill—I certainly deny it.

Lord Robert Cecil—Do you deny that anything of the kind took place?

Mr. Churchill—The Government never instructed the armed forces to take the law into their own hands.

Lord Robert Cecil—Does the right hon. gentleman deny that after a Cabinet meeting in June, 1920, some intimation of that kind was given to the Crown forces?

Mr. Churchill—I do not know on what evidence the noble lord makes these very damaging and insulting charges against the Government of his own country. (Ministerial cheers.) And I do not know on what authority he gives information about a meeting of a Cabinet Committee. I have no such information. If he has information on the subject let him publish it. (Cheers.)

Lord Robert Cecil maintained that the information had been published in August or September, and he drew attention to it on October 4th. He concluded by asserting that if the present policy failed it would be due to the unhappy policy of reprisals pursued by the Government.

MR. CHURCHILL'S REPLY.

CONSISTENT FAULT-FINDING.

Mr. Churchill said—I understand the object of raising this subject to-day, and I sympathise with the anxiety expressed on behalf of the Unionists in the South of Ireland and the Royal Irish Constabulary. But I ask myself what object of public utility can Lord Robert Cecil seek to serve in this stream of vindictive allegation with which he has affronted the House.

The noble lord was one of those whose fine sensibilities were outraged by many squalid, brutal, and ferocious aspects of the warfare in Ireland. Many others shared that abhorrence, anxiety, and grief. But when the Treaty was signed, almost every one swung round and did, and are doing, everything in their power to make the new policy a success. Not one has thought it worth while to go into the past and try to rake up something to breed a feeling of ill-will and reproach at the present. (Cheers.) They have been consistent in seeking peace, whether we agreed with them or not.

The noble lord has been consistent only in finding fault. Whatever the series of circumstances, they lead him only to one conclusion—a new means of condemning the Government. His tribute this afternoon is a series of the most serious and offensive allegations upon evidence which he has not attempted to submit. Nobody ever concealed the ugly aspects of this Irish struggle. Nobody conceals, in Belfast to-day, the hideous aspects which a campaign of murder and reprisals is bound to present. I am bound, after the noble lord's speech, to re-state the position.

Every one knows that armed men will not stand by and see one after another of their number shot down by treachery without to some extent taking the law into their own hands. (Cheers.) And, though the Government did their best to restrain them, it is true we did not punish with full severity the persons who had been mixed up in this sort of affair. I have never concealed that. How could we punish them—(cheers)—while there was no other redress open? But I fully agree that one evil leading to another brought the whole of our policy in Ireland, and in the world generally, into grave discredit. One of the reasons that have led us forward is that the British Empire cannot afford to be drawn continually by these brutal Irish feuds into a position dishonouring to its general and long-maintained reputation, and not because we had not the strength: we had overwhelming strength to crush Ireland.

The speech of the noble lord might well have furnished material for the most extravagant

SOLDIER SHOT AT KINGSTOWN.

REVOLVER FIRED AT POINT-BLANK RANGE.

ESCAPE OF ASSAILANT.

Private A. T. Taylor, 15th Company Royal Army Service Corps, Royal Barracks, Dublin, was shot through the head at Kingstown yesterday, and now lies in a hopeless condition in St. Michael's Hospital.

Shortly before 3 o'clock in the afternoon Private Taylor arrived at the Y.M.C.A. office in a Ford motor car driven by Private Anthony Cachia, took out some furniture, and loaded it on the car.

Just then a revolver shot was heard. It came so suddenly that Private Cachia alone seems to have seen anything of what happened.

He stated that after the car was loaded he went to the front of it to start the engine. Taylor, who had a loaded rifle in his hand, was near the car. He was standing at ease, when a civilian came in front of him and fired a revolver at him. Cachia, when starting the engine, heard a shout of "Hold them up" and then the sound of a revolver shot. He looked up, and a man who had been standing about two yards from Taylor turned and ran away.

Cachia picked up Taylor's rifle and followed the man up Patrick street, till he disappeared in a laneway. Then he returned, and had Taylor taken to St. Michael's Hospital.

It was found that the revolver bullet had touched the peak of Taylor's cap, passed through his head, and thence out through the back of the cap near the top. It must have made a nearly level track. Brain matter was protruding from the head, but Taylor was still alive some hours after being wounded. Dr. Harding, House Surgeon; Dr. P. A. MacDermott, F.R.C.S.I., and Dr. O'Connor, who examined him at the hospital, came to the conclusion that the case was virtually hopeless: only a miracle could save his life.

Taylor is a native of Sheffield. His rifle was found to be loaded and clean, no shot having been fired from it.

According to another account, Privates Taylor and Cachia, when attacked, were fetching milk for the wives and children of soldiers who were being embarked on the mail-boat at Kingstown on their way from Ireland.

HOUSE OF LORDS REFORM.

BILL READ A FIRST TIME.

A bill to reconstitute the House of Lords was formally read a first time yesterday in the House of Commons.

Colonel Claude Lowther, who introduced it, said that the bill sought to substitute for an aristocracy of birth an aristocracy of brains. The cumbersome number of 730 members was to be reduced to 300, apart from princes of the blood. The bill provided that in December, 1923, the House of Lords, as at present constituted, should cease to exist—(laughter and cheers)—but not before it had, by a process of self-elimination—or on the principle of the survival of the fittest—select 100 of its most brilliant members to form a nucleus for a Second Chamber.

The land was to be thoroughly searched for genius and intellect. Every class and profession would then be represented by men of outstanding merit, and they would get a virile, strong representative Second Chamber.

BLINDFOLDED AND SHOT.

CALLOUS TREATMENT OF FARMER.

John Kelly, 19, farmer, Listrakelt, Keady, was shot by armed men at 10 p.m. on Tuesday on the main road from Keady to Castleblayney, about two miles from the border.

Interviewed, Kelly stated that he was sent to Keady for a doctor to attend his mother. When about three-quarters of a mile from Keady he was met by a motor vehicle, which stopped. He was then accosted by armed men, who took him into the vehicle and questioned him.

They drove on for half a mile, and then stopped; took him out on the road, and, pulling a cap over his eyes, they shot him through the stomach. They then left him there.

Kelly managed to run to the house of a farmer named Merry, where he was attended by a priest and doctor. He was afterwards removed to Monaghan hospital.

HOLIDAYS ON LAND AND SEA.

EASTER TRAIN ARRANGEMENTS.

Special arrangements have been made by the Irish railway companies in connection with the Easter holidays, and the excursion trains, which had to be abandoned during the war period, are being restored. Reduced fares also are announced by the different companies.

For those who would spend Easter across the water the Great Southern and Western Railway has provided cheap tickets from Dublin and other stations to certain centres in England, including London. These cheap tickets are being issued to-day. The service on this system on Good Friday will be the same as on Sundays, except that several additional trains will run, and on Easter Monday the passenger service will be the usual week-day service.

The Great Northern Company intimates that cheap tickets will be issued on each day of the holidays, and the Midland Great Western Company that Saturday to Monday tickets will be available up to and including the following Wednesday. A limited number of trains will run on Good Friday, and on Easter Monday special trains will leave Broadstone for Fairyhouse Races.

A number of special excursion fares are announced by the Dublin and South-Eastern Company. On Good Friday the ordinary week-day service will be in operation on the main line, and the Sunday service on the Harcourt street line. On Easter Sunday a new and increased train service will be in operation, and an excursion train will run between Westland row Station and Woodenbridge. The ordinary service will be maintained on Easter Monday.

On the Dublin, Blessington, and Poulaphouca tramway the Sunday service will be run on Friday and Monday, with an afternoon excursion to Poulaphouca each day.

Those who wish to avail of the facilities offered should consult the announcements made by the different companies.

TRAMWAY CO. APPOINTMENTS.

The directors of the Dublin United Tramways Company, at their meeting on April 11, appointed Mr. Maurice Lombard Secretary and Mr. T. E. Murray Chief Accountant, to fill the positions rendered vacant through the deaths of the late Mr. William McHugh and Mr. William Rathborne.

The newly-appointed officials bring to these important positions a wide experience, extending over twenty years in various posts on the official staff of this company.

IRISH MUSICIAN'S SUCCESS.

At one of his recent song recitals in England, Mr. John Coates, the famous English tenor, included in his programme a song composed by Mr. Arthur Duff, the well-known Dublin organist. The song is a setting of Shakespeare's verses, "O Mistress Mine." Mr. Duff is a graduate in Music and Arts of Dublin University.

A telegram from San Francisco says that Arbuckle has been acquitted.

NEW EUROPEAN PACT.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S PROPOSAL.

AGREED TERM OF PEACE.

BANKS CONFERENCE SUGGESTED.

There was no plenary sitting of the Genoa Conference yesterday, but important committees were at work. The Chairman outlined the matters which were to be discussed and on which reports are to be submitted to a full meeting of the Conference.

Mr. Lloyd George is Chairman of the No. 1, or Political, Committee. It did not meet yesterday, but it is understood that at to-day's meeting he will propose what in Conference circles is held to be a scheme that may mark the turning-point in the world's history.

He suggests a pact, or undertaking, that no nation shall attack another for the duration of an agreed term. The acceptance of such a proposal, says a Special Correspondent, would make "The Pact of Genoa" one of the most memorable in the world.

COMMITTEES AT WORK.

SIR ROBERT HORNE'S FINANCE PROPOSALS.

The Finance Committee was in session yesterday under the presidency of Sir Leming Worthington Evans.

Sir Robert Horne proposed a plan for stabilising currencies on the lines of the experts' report. This report, which was prepared in London last month, was distributed to the delegates on the previous evening. Its contents have not been made public, but it is stated to refer particularly to the restoration of Russia's financial institutions, conditions of trade generally in Europe, and various inter-State commercial conventions.

Sir Robert Horne suggested that an international conference of issuing banks should be held to examine questions of currency and fiduciary circulation. It was decided that efforts should be made to obtain the indispensable co-operation of the Federal Reserve Bank of America.

Both the German and Russian delegates said that they wished to make written comments on the experts' report, and would submit their documents by noon to-day. The Finance Committee accordingly adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

At a meeting of the Economic Committee, of which M. Colrat, France, is chairman, there was a good deal of discussion about a number of the smaller States not being represented, and it was finally decided to increase the number from four to five, the Committee to consist of twelve instead of eleven. In addition to the convening five Powers, Russia, Germany, Norway, Serbia, Latvia, Switzerland, and Holland will now be directly represented.

A meeting of the Transport Committee, under the presidency of M. Theunis, Belgium, sat and appointed sub-committees to make inquiries on different branches and report.

Delegates not on the committees will be invited to make suggestions regarding matters in the Allied experts' report, and the services of eminent international experts will be utilised by all committees.

EARLDOM FOR SIR A. BALFOUR.

48 YEARS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The King has been graciously pleased to approve that the dignity of an Earldom of the United Kingdom be conferred upon the Right Hon. Sir Arthur James Balfour, K.G., O.M.

By his removal to the Upper House, Sir Arthur terminates his membership of the House of Commons, which has extended over 48 years, and vacates his seat as senior member for the City of London, which he has represented since 1906. At the last general election there was no contest.

"LUCKLESS MEASURE."

MR. ASQUITH ON TRADE SAFEGUARDS.

Mr. Asquith, in the House of Commons yesterday, drew attention to the working and administration of the Safeguarding of Industries Act, which he described as a luckless measure. Under Part I., which dealt with "key" industries, the Board of Trade had issued a schedule enumerating about 6,000 commodities—a model of painstaking and misdirected research. A considerable number of these commodities had never been produced in this country. He understood that there were four hundred or five hundred appeals under the Act against various items in the list, of which not more than ten or eleven had been decided. That was a tremendous obstacle to the free course of trade.

In regard to Part II. of the Act, which deals with dumping, he urged that a more prompt decision should be taken by the Board of Trade on reports sent in by the committee inquiring into the matter. One of the cases on which no decision had yet been taken concerned the import of fabric gloves, for the manufacture of which manufactured cotton yarn was exported from Bolton to Germany, coming back in the shape of the finished fabric glove. The refusal to allow the importation of these gloves was regarded as a serious blow at Bolton.

Mr. Baldwin said that he had always taken the line that Part I. of the Act would be a useful piece of legislation. Under it he hoped to see substantial progress made in a number of very valuable industries, so that when the Act lapsed these industries might be able to face any competition then confronting them. The reports coming in from the fine chemicals industry were distinctly cheering, as was the case with other industries. As to the refunding of duties, that was dealt with by the Act, and the Board of Trade had no further power. With regard to Part 2, there were outstanding appeals in four cases. He recognised that any delay in coming to a decision was inconvenient for the businesses concerned; but he hoped that the decision in these cases would be ready for the ratification of the House immediately after the Easter Recess.

Mr. Riley said that the greater part of the commodities affected by the Act were the raw materials, which were necessary for the development of British industry in this country.

Mr. Atkey congratulated the President of the Board of Trade on his determination to carry on the good work under the Act.

GOLD AND SILVER ON CUNARDER.

Over 400 bars of silver and twelve kegs of gold, to the value of 900,000 dollars, from New York, were landed at Liverpool yesterday by the Cunard liner Albania. The liner brought over several American theatrical artists, who are about to take part in various productions in England.

GENERAL TUDOR.

General Tudor has informed an Irish Times representative that there is no truth in the report that he is to succeed Mr. Herbert Samuel in Palestine. General Tudor says that he is going to Palestine in command of the troops, and not in any civil capacity. He will serve under Mr. Herbert Samuel, or whoever succeeds him.

MILKED WITH UNCLEAN HANDS.

Christopher Kavanagh, dairy proprietor, 17 Wood quay, Dublin, was fined £1 by a Republican Court, held at 41 York street, Dublin, yesterday, for, as stated in evidence, allowing a cow, his property, to be milked by a person whose hands were not thoroughly clean and free from all contamination. At the same Court John Reilly, 117 Emmett road, was fined £1 for failing to register as a purveyor of milk.

ROUND-THE-WORLD FLIGHT.

AIR KNIGHTS' NEW ADVENTURE.

BACK ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Final preparations are nearly completed for the equipment of a Vickers-Viking Amphibian machine, in which Sir Ross Smith is to embark on a flight round the world.

It is proposed to start the flight of 21,500 miles at ten o'clock on 25th inst. The pilot, Sir Ross Smith, will be accompanied by his brother, Sir Keith Smith, who will act as navigator and wireless operator; and Mr. J. N. Bennett, engineer.

The route planned for the flight is across France, Egypt, Mesopotamia, Persia, India, Burma, China, Japan, Kamchatka, the Aleutian Islands, Alaska, Canada, New York, St. John's, and back across the Atlantic.

The approximate distance is 21,500 miles. It is hoped to do the journey in flying time of 240 hours, the whole journey lasting about three months.

This will be the first big flight attempted by Sir Ross and Sir Keith Smith since their wonderful air trip from England to Australia at the end of 1919, for which they were knighted by the King.

NO MAN'S LAND.

A BORDER AGREEMENT.

News reached Belfast yesterday that, as the result of a conference between Sir Basil Brooke, Commandant of the Northern Forces in County Fermanagh, and the Officer Commanding the Free State Forces in County Monaghan, arrangements have been made for the institution of a neutral zone in the Belcoo and Garrison district. The meeting was of a harmonious character.

It was agreed that both sides should withdraw their forces a few miles from the border line, with a view to preventing encounters, and they undertook to punish any unauthorised or provocative acts.

The agreement is expected to relieve the tension in the immediate area. Other parts of the line are said to be held by adherents of Mr. de Valera.

News from Fermanagh states that large numbers of men have been seen on the hills overlooking Lough Melvin, and a big telescope has been set up, which commands a view of the town of Garrison.

Our Newbliss Correspondent states that Mr. O'Duffy, Chief of Staff, who visited Clones yesterday, was doing all that was possible to observe the pact with the Northern Government, and he hoped that all would soon be in the enjoyment of peace. Colonel T. W. M. Bates was doing everything in his power to restore order.

Mr. O'Duffy added that the release of some prisoners who were under sentence in County Fermanagh was expected by Easter.

POISON TRIAL ENDING.

ARMSTRONG VERDICT TO-DAY.

When the trial of Major Armstrong at Hereford was adjourned last night, Mr. Justice Darling said that the case would certainly conclude to-day.

Medical witnesses were called for the defence yesterday, and expressed the opinion that Mrs. Armstrong died from a large dose of arsenic taken six days before her death, and that previously her symptoms were those of neuritis.

The Judge, recalling Mr. Matthews, the prisoner's solicitor, put some further questions regarding the packet of arsenic found in the bureau. This concluded the evidence.

Sir Henry Curtis Bennett, addressing the jury for the defence, expressed regret that the judge's advice to them not to discuss the matter until they had heard everything on the other side was not given at the end of the Attorney-General's opening speech, instead of when the defence was first put before them.

The Judge, interposing, said that he gave the caution at the first moment that it occurred to him, and regretted that he did not give it sooner.

Continuing, Sir Henry, in pointing out what, in his submission, must be the verdict, asked the jury to take the case suggested by the prosecution, that Armstrong administered poison to his wife, and compare it with the case, which it was not necessary to prove, that she committed suicide. On the question of law there might be an appeal, but he emphasised that on a question of fact the jury's was the final verdict.

Counsel also complained that his medical witnesses, unlike those on the other side, had been stopped time after time when giving explanations.

The Attorney-General will address the jury to-day.

ATTACKS ON UNIONS.

PROPOSED JOINT ACTION.

A special delegate conference of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain was held yesterday at the Central Hall, Westminster, when a long agenda of domestic business was under consideration.

The following official statement was issued at the close of the conference:—

"Mr. Herbert Smith, Acting President, was in the chair, and there were present 143 delegates, executive members, and officials. The business before the conference was the consideration of the proposed new rules for the Federation; also a memorandum from the Trades Union Congress General Council regarding a joint defence against attacks on trade union standards, and power to impose a levy on affiliated unions to form a defence fund.

"The revision of the rules occupied the whole of the day. A few amendments proposed by the Executive were accepted, after which a motion was carried that the rules be adopted as amended. The conference adjourned until to-morrow morning."

Mr. Straker said that a proposal that only a bare majority should be required in future to enter into, or to continue, a sectional strike was defeated, and the two-thirds majority would still be necessary.

He also stated that the conference rejected a proposal to vary the rules in order to permit the Secretary of the Federation to become a member of Parliament or a Parliamentary candidate. The old condition that the secretary should not be allowed to undertake Parliamentary obligations would be adhered to.

CORK MILITIA.

The King has approved of the disbandment, as soon as the exigencies of the Service permit, of the Cork Militia Royal Garrison Artillery.

ORDERED OUT OF FREE STATE.

Late at night a number of armed men called to the house of Special Constable Lyndsay at Castlefin. The constable, who was home on leave, was taken away. A form of trial was held, at the end of which he was given an hour to leave Free State territory. The constable complied with the order.

RECRUITS UNDER ARREST.

An official report issued from Beggars' Bush Barracks last night states:—Vice-Commandant Lyons, 4th Cork Brigade, who was arrested on Wednesday, 5th inst., by irregular forces, and detained in Buttevant Barracks, has now been released after seven days' hunger strike.

Amongst those of the party of men from the Cork No. 4 Brigade area arrested at Mallow Station while on their way to Beggars' Bush for training, the following are still detained:—Daniel Linehan, Thomas O'Leary, Michael Daly, Jeremiah Murphy, all of Rathmore, Co. Kerry; and James Horgan, of Bantry, Co. Cork.

MILITARY FAMILIES LEAVING.

A special train from the Curragh last evening brought about 300 passengers for England to the Carlisle Pier. They were the wives and families of soldiers, and were returning to their homes. They carried with them about 14 tons of baggage.

FROM TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

EMPIRE DEVELOPING.

A SUGGESTION.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

However desirable it may be that Russia should take her place again among the nations with whom the world can trade, it is useless to shut our eyes to the fact that, even if civilised government were re-established there, it must be many years before the country can again become an effective market for British goods.

Meanwhile concentration on the problems of Eastern Europe is serving to divert attention from the infinitely more important and profitable task of developing to their utmost extent the resources and potentialities of the British Empire.

The Government might more profitably devote attention to the development of the Empire, from which the country would derive immediate and permanent trade benefit, than to efforts to patch together the fragments of Eastern Europe's economic structure, with the terror that destroyed it still enthroned.

GENOA.

THE BOLSHEVIST STAGE.

The Times, in a leading article entitled "The Bolshevist Stage," says:—The Genoa Conference is in truth a great opportunity for the Bolshevists. The conception of a conference of all the European nations for the purpose of devising means for the restoration of a shattered Continent is in its external aspect extraordinarily impressive.

We long for the restoration and pacification of Europe and the re-establishment of normal international intercourse and trade. This country needs a stable and peaceful Europe in order that its own existence may be secure. There was a way to ensure this—first by associating Great Britain in a close compact with France, and then proceeding with our French Ally to a careful consideration of the German problem, and later in the measure of our success in undertaking the tremendous task of remedying the effects of Bolshevist misrule in Russia.

That way has been sedulously evaded. Instead we have the Genoa Conference, where the Bolshevists are allowed to display such skill in tactics in the face of an unprepared and divided Europe as may very possibly, through the weakness and lenity of our opportunist statesmen, lead to the formal recognition of their crimes and the confirmation of their evil rule.

WHITE AUSTRALIA.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

The official ceremonies of the great Sydney Centenary Show drew the Governor-General and the Prime Minister from Melbourne, writes the Melbourne Correspondent of The Times. The main feature of their speeches was the emphasis laid on immigration as a basis for the future development of Australia, and its preservation as a home for white races, and particularly the British people.

The only policy for the Commonwealth, said Mr. Hughes, was one national in scope, Imperial in outlook. He prayed that the deliberations of the Genoa Conference might have a successful outcome; for the problems of the world concerned Australia equally with Europe.

THE LORD LIEUTENANT AND CHIEF SECRETARY.

Replying to Mr. Trevelyan Thomson and Mr. Hogge in the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Chamberlain said that the office of Lord Lieutenant of Ireland was still in existence. Sir Hamar Greenwood was still Chief Secretary, and was enjoying the salary normally appropriated to his office. The duties of the Chief Secretary were still too onerous to permit of the office being discontinued at present. The estimates showed that provision had been made for its continuance for not more than six months in the present financial year.

Mr. Hogge—Does that apply to the Lord Lieutenant? Cannot he be dispensed with?

Mr. Chamberlain—Oh, no. The Crown must be represented in Ireland.

A TRIBUTE TO TOLERATION.

Mr. T. B. Rudmose-Brown, writing from 40 Trinity College, Dublin, to the Editor of the Westmeath Examiner, says:—

"My attention has been called to a letter from Mr. George D. Rea, Hopestown, Mullingar, published in the Westmeath Examiner, on the 'Border Question.' I should be most glad to sign the form of protest suggested by Mr. Rea. It seems to me to put the matter most clearly and cogently. I have lived twelve years in Dublin, and I have never met with anything but kindness and courtesy from my Catholic neighbours. Force can never achieve any worthy end. What is gained by violence retains the taint of the means by which it was won."

STRIKE IN WOOLLEN MILLS.

The Athlone Woollen Mills closed yesterday, and 247 men and women workers are idle as the result of the failure to effect an agreement on a "cut" in wages, varying from 3s. to 1s. per week.

The workers are all members of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union. Six weeks ago, when the first "cut" became operative, a strike was averted by negotiations.

Mr. Mulvihill, the Secretary of the Local Branch of the Transport Union, stated that he and Mr. Redmond, organiser of the union for central Ireland, did their utmost to bring about a settlement, but the workers would not agree to the second "cut." The management declined to compromise, on the grounds of being handicapped by competition.

NEW NORTHERN SENATOR.

In the Northern Senate yesterday, Mr. H. De Fellenberg Montgomery, D.L., Blessingbourne, Fivemiletown, took the oath and his seat, in succession to Sir Basil Brooke, Bart., resigned.

Mr. Montgomery is Chairman of the Clogher Valley Railway, Clogher District Council, and the Tyrone Agricultural Committee. He is a member of the Tyrone County Council.

Sir Basil Brooke, who has resigned, is chief of the Fermanagh Specials.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS IN DUBLIN.

A detachment of the Worcester Regiment arrived at the North Wall yesterday from Belfast by the "Lady Wicklow." They went to quarters in Dublin. The same steamer is understood to have a commission to call at a Southern port to bring to Dublin a detachment of the R.I.C., who, it is stated, will be demobilised in Dublin.

NEW IRISH-OWNED STEAMER.

Yesterday a new steamer of Irish ownership entered the Port of Dublin for the first time, and berthed in the Custom House Docks. The vessel, which is named the Mayfield (Captain McNally), was built at Glasgow by Messrs. Yarrow, and is owned by Messrs. C. J. Irwin, of Enniscorthy, County Wexford. She has a dead-weight capacity of 750 tons, and is 18 feet in length. Her first inward cargo consisted of coals.

CONCILIATION.

BELFAST COMMITTEE SET UP.

POLITICAL CRIME.

NEW BILL PASSES THROUGH SENATE.

The first meeting of the Belfast Conciliation Committee, which comes into existence as the result of the Peace Agreement which was signed in London by Mr. Collins and Sir James Craig, was held yesterday.

Under the Agreement an impartial Committee was to be set up of equal numbers of Roman Catholics and Protestants, with an independent Chairman—preferably a Catholic and a Protestant alternating in successive weeks—to investigate complaints of intimidation and outrage. The Committee will have direct access to the heads of the Northern Government.

The Criminal Procedure Bill passed through all its stages in the Northern Senate yesterday. It carries out one of the terms of the Collins-Craig pact.

THE NEW COMMITTEE.

FIRST SITTING.

The first meeting of the Conciliation Committee was held in the Lord Mayor's Parlour, at the Belfast City Hall, the Lord Mayor (Sir William Coates, Bart.) presiding.

The following members of the Committee were present:—Mr. James Brady, J.P.; Councillor T. E. McConnell, M.P.; Dr. McNabb; Alderman John Graham, solicitor; Mr. Hugh McAlinden, Right Hon. Samuel Cunningham, Mr. Robert Armstrong, Mr. T. J. Campbell, K.C.; Mr. George Martin, solicitor; Mr. William Gowan, and Mr. Frank McArdle. Two members of the Committee were appointed to act as hon. secretaries pro tem.

A prolonged discussion took place as to the powers and duties of the Committee, and how best to carry out the work to be done by the members. The next meeting of the Committee was fixed for April 19, at 3 o'clock.

All reports of intimidation and of outrages must be sent to "The Joint Secretaries, the Conciliation Committee, City Hall, Belfast," when a date will be fixed for investigation.

POLITICAL CRIMES.

NEW BILL IN THE SENATE.

In the Northern Senate yesterday, the Criminal Procedure Bill was passed through all its stages.

Speaking on the second reading, the Marquis of Londonderry refreshed the memory of the House by reading Clause 4 of the London Agreement, which provided for the constitution of a Court for the trial without a jury of persons charged with serious crime, the Court to consist of the Lord Chief Justice and one of the Lords Justices of Appeal of Northern Ireland; any person committed for trial for a serious crime to be tried by that Court (a) if he so requests, or (b) if the Attorney-General for Northern Ireland so dictates; serious crime to mean any offence punishable with death, penal servitude, or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months.

The whole of the measure, said his lordship, was necessarily founded upon that article, and he was sure that hon. members were as anxious as the Government that they should fulfil their bond to the letter. They had made that Bill refer only to that class of serious crime, the commission of which had largely led to the summoning of the Conference, and the prevention of which they sincerely hoped would be one of its happy results. The agreement referred only to crimes of a so-called political character, and they had, therefore, confined the activities of the special Court thereby set up to dealing with such serious crimes. He should like to tell those critics outside, who first accused the signatories of having made concessions too great, and now accused that Bill as seeking to rob citizens of their rights under Magna Charta to be tried by their fellow-citizens, that they cannot have it both ways. In their opinion, either they had been too soft-hearted or too tyrannical. The measure appeared to him to tend to support their claim to have been judicious, to have surrendered no principle, to have made reasonable and necessary concessions to the interests of peace.

ORIGIN OF SPECIAL COURTS.

The Bill did not aim at defeating justice by withholding from any man the right—that most ancient right—of judgment by his peers, but it did make a concession in the interests of peace. The Prime Minister, in another place, had stated the origin of that special Court to be in the representation made to him by the Roman Catholic minority amongst them. They had asked that men of their creed should be granted the opportunity of pleading before that Court, rather than before a jury of their peers. They had said that that would give confidence to their fellow-religionists and restore peace. They, as a Government, had the utmost confidence in Ulster jurymen. They did not feel that in making that concession to prejudice—for it was prejudice, and only prejudice—that they were giving one guilty man a single further chance of escape. They most earnestly desired to win the confidence and trust of the minority, for peace within a state was based not solely upon the will of the majority, but upon the willing consent of all the citizens to be ruled under the same institutions.

In passing this measure, hon. members would register the approval of the Agreement which they had already expressed. They would greatly strengthen the hands of the Government by ratifying an Agreement which had already won for them the goodwill of the Empire, and, by shifting the onus of proof of the will to peace and reasonableness upon other shoulders than their own, they had presented the people of Northern Ireland in a new, and, he might say, a true, perspective. (Applause.)

NINETEEN INQUESTS.

VICTIMS OF THE GUN.

Nineteen inquests were held in Belfast yesterday, into the circumstances of the deaths of persons who had lost their lives in the recent shootings in the city. Verdicts of wilful murder were returned.

One of the cases was that of Hugh McAnany (34), of Whitehouse. His widow told the coroner that she was watching a funeral which was going to the cemetery, when her husband came along on a van. About a dozen young men passed him, and she saw her husband jump from the van and run. Two shots were fired and he fell, and a second party of young men fired shots into him while he lay on the road.

Mr. Donaghy, for the next-of-kin, said that it was a terrible sign of the times that such a crime could occur in a public thoroughfare in broad daylight, and that no person had been made amenable. It was an extraordinary thing that at a funeral that a crowd of people should be carrying revolvers.

Another case was that of Benedict Leith (21), an ex-soldier, who was shot while rescuing a child from danger.

Mr. John Campbell said that it was a deplorable fact that this young man who had braved the dangers of France should be shot after removing a little child from danger in Belfast.

PUBLIC TRUSTEE IN IRELAND.

Mr. Hilton Young informed Mr. Rawlinson, in the House of Commons yesterday, that the question whether beneficiaries having funds in the hands of the Public Trustee in Ireland would have an opportunity of transferring their property to the Public Trustee in London before the responsibility of the British Government for such funds came to an end would receive due consideration. For the present the Public Trustee in Ireland had not been transferred to the Irish Government.

Mr. Rawlinson—When will it be finally considered and dealt with?

Mr. Hilton Young—When the question of transfer arises the hon. and learned member may rest assured that the considerations which he advances will be regarded as of the utmost importance.

ORDERED FROM BRIGADE AREA.

The families of demobilised policemen in Ballina have been served with notices ordering them to leave the Brigade area within a specified time.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Mr. Michael Collins and several of his colleagues are announced to speak at Naas on Sunday.

Mr. de Valera will address a meeting at Tullamore on Sunday, and on the same evening will speak in the Theatre Royal, Dublin.

SHOT IN A LORRY.

PRISONER'S FATE

TESTIMONY OF EYE-WITNESSES.

A DISSENTING JUROR.

The circumstances connected with the death of Michael Sweeny (21), of Harold's Cross, Dublin, who died on Monday night in Jervis street Hospital from a wound inflicted by a revolver bullet, were investigated yesterday by the City Coroner. During the inquiry, which was held in the hospital, the Lord Mayor occupied a seat beside the Coroner. The large number of people present indicated the extent to which interest attached to the inquiry.

Mrs. Sweeny, mother of the deceased man, said that her son was in an ambush last May, and was wounded in the leg by an exploding bomb, and since then he had been lame. The leg got worse since he went to Mountjoy Prison, where he had been for over eight weeks. He had been in the prison hospital, but he told her that he had been put out of the hospital for talking to some men. She saw him last Friday, and he had then been on hunger-strike for six days, and she thought that he was on the verge of consumption. She was in Beggars' Bush Barracks on Monday when he was on trial, and she afterwards saw him when she left the barracks.

While she was standing at the corner of Haddington road a lorry conveying him and some soldiers passed her. Her son was standing at the back of the lorry looking out, and was apparently smiling. That was the last that she saw of him alive. When she reached home a girl informed her that her son Michael had been shot in the shoulder. She went to the hospital and found that he was dead. On returning home she found a letter, which had been brought by a despatch rider from Beggars' Bush Barracks, informing her, with regret, that her son, Michael Sweeny, was accidentally shot that evening, and was then lying in Jervis street Hospital. The letter was signed: "O.C., Beggars' Bush." Michael, she said, had been in the Volunteers, she thought, since he was 13. He was "out" in 1916, and was deported, and was also "out" in the late war. He loved his country, and, the witness added, "and so did I."

TWO NEWSVENDORS.

Nicholas Timmins, a newsboy, stated that when he was standing at the corner of Suffolk street and Grafton street on Monday evening a Ford lorry passed, and there was a prisoner in it. There were two armed men at the front and two armed men at the back of the lorry. When they had passed he heard a shot, and the lorry suddenly stopped. He looked again and saw a man hanging out of the lorry, but he was pushed back into the vehicle by one of the men. When the witness first saw the prisoner he was standing in the centre of the four armed men. He made a move to get out of the lorry, but his feet were in it when his body was hanging out of it. Witness saw no struggle, but saw one of the guard put a revolver back in his pouch. The soldier who helped the man back into the car did all that he could for him.

Andrew Byrne, another newsvendor, said that when he heard the shot he looked round and saw two I.R.A. soldiers trying to draw the man back into the lorry, and another man, who was sitting beside the driver, caught him by the legs and threw him in.

The evidence of Dr. McInerney was to the effect that when the deceased man was admitted to the hospital he was unconscious, and had a bullet wound in the back of the neck. He died soon after his arrival. The bullet entered the back of the neck, injuring the spinal cord and right lung, and was found at the bottom of the wall of the right chest. Death resulted from shock and hæmorrhage.

Helena Molony stated that she also heard a noise like a shot, and saw a man, who was hanging from the back of the lorry, pulled back into the vehicle. The lorry was followed by another vehicle which contained soldiers in uniform like those in the first car.

SAW THE SHOT FIRED.

Philip Whelan stated that when the lorry reached the foot of Grafton street he saw a man making an effort to get out of it. He was caught by two soldiers, and another soldier, who had been sitting at the back of the car, drew his revolver, pointed it at the back of the neck of the man, and fired downwards. The man then went limp.

Answering Mr. Noyk, solicitor, who appeared for the military authorities, G.H.Q., Beggars' Bush, the witness said that in his opinion the revolver was fired deliberately. It could not have been accidental.

To a question put by the Lord Mayor, the witness gave a similar answer. The revolver could not, he said, have gone off by accident.

Thomas McCormack stated that he saw two Volunteers struggling with a civilian at the back of the lorry, and a Volunteer who had been sitting on the right hand side of the lorry shot the civilian on the back of the neck. In the opinion of witness it was impossible for the civilian to escape. The shot, he believed, was deliberately fired.

The evidence on behalf of the next-of-kin having closed,

Patrick Duffy, Adjutant, I.R.A., Beggars' Bush Barracks, stated that he had been detailed with five men to escort two men on Monday last to Mountjoy. The deceased man was one of the prisoners. Five men were in the body of the car along with the prisoners, and the witness was seated beside the driver. At Nassau street corner the car had to slow down owing to the heavy traffic. Immediately the witness heard a scuffle in the car and a shot went off. He had the car stopped and jumped from it with his revolver in his hand. At the back of the car he saw the deceased man hanging out and two of the escort were holding him. He was informed that the civilian was wounded and he helped him into the car, and told the driver to proceed at full speed to Jervis street Hospital. Sweeney was not handcuffed, as he was an officer of the Republican Army. The witness could not say whether he was a tried or an untried prisoner.

Replying to Mr. Proud, who appeared for the next-of-kin, the witness said that his orders were to convey the prisoner to his destination safely. In case of escape, he was to use every means in his power, except shooting to kill. In case of attack by armed forces or that the prisoner attacked with arms himself, no man of the escort dared fire a shot without the witness's order, and he gave no order to shoot.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

Private Patrick McGinn, one of the escort, stated that at Nassau street corner Sweeney attempted to jump over the back of the lorry. The witness caught him by the clothes about the breast, and his comrade, who had a revolver in his hand, came to his assistance. A struggle ensued and a shot was discharged. In the opinion of witness the discharge of the shot was caused by the jolting of the car. The shot was not fired in cold blood. He believed that it was an accident.

Other evidence having been given to show that the deceased man was a good soldier, the jury found that Michael Sweeney died from shock and hæmorrhage, caused by a bullet accidentally fired from a revolver by one of an escort who had him in charge in Grafton street, on the 10th inst.

One juror dissented.

The jury expressed sympathy with the relatives of the deceased man.

The remains of Mr. Sweeney were removed from Jervis street Hospital to his home in Harold's Cross road last evening. The coffin was draped in the Republican colours, and about 1,500 members of the I.R.A. marched in the procession.

FUNERAL OF HON. A. H. BOURKE.

The funeral of the Hon. Algernon Henry Bourke, brother of the seventh Earl of Mayo, took place from Palmerstown House, Co. Kildare, on Wednesday. The interment was in Johnstown Churchyard, where the body of the sixth Earl of Mayo, Governor-General of India, lies buried. The Venerable the Archdeacon of Kildare, Rector of Kill and Rathmore, officiated at the graveside, and the Earl and Countess of Mayo, Lady Florence Bourke, Captain and Mrs. Wyndham Quin, Mrs. Edward Kennedy (Bishopscourt) and her sons, Mrs. Jackson (Kill), and Mr. T. R. Gibson were present.

Wreaths were sent "From Gwen and Daphne"; "In affectionate remembrance, from Eva and Windham"; "In loving remembrance, from Terence"; "From Florence"; "From Dermot and Geraldine"; "A token of sympathy and respect, from the Staff and Nurses at the Church Row, Fulham"; "In most affectionate remembrance, from Mrs. Shelly Bontein"; "From Albert"; "From Zoë Farquharson"; "In remembrance, from Frederick Jones"; "From Edward and Doris Kennedy" (Bishopscourt).

REPUBLIC IMPOSSIBLE.

perorations of Mr. de Valera, and I have no doubt he will be greatly refreshed by reading it. (Cheers.)

As to the Royal Irish Constabulary, there is no word of praise for that force with which the Government does not associate itself, and there is no word of anxiety about their present position which does not awaken a sense of responsibility in our breasts. These men have extremely good pensions—pensions which compare favourably with those of any class of public servants in any country. A young man of 25, in perfect good health, with five years' service, gets nearly £90 a year for life. But we must recognise that these men, in many cases, will have to leave their native land and begin in a new country.

We must also recognise that the next three or four months, and perhaps longer, will be months in which Ireland, denuded of police and military, and with a new Government not fully possessed of the means of preserving order, will be a very dangerous place for perhaps many of these men. Many offences contrary to the Treaty will be committed, and we have, therefore, offered these men refuge in this country. I do not exclude the idea of making a camp in this country, at any rate for the next few months, and if there is any general demand for it by a large number of the Royal Irish Constabulary, I think it certainly should be considered.

I believe, myself, the conditions in Ireland which make it dangerous for them are temporary. It is a terrible fact that nineteen of these men have been shot dead since the Treaty, and under the safeguard of the Irish people as guaranteed by their duly accredited plenipotentiaries and representatives in their own Dail Eireann, without anybody being brought to justice. That is undoubtedly a stain upon the national record of Ireland, which, I am convinced, as the years go by, Ireland will herself remove by the patient, unrelenting pursuit of the assassins and the execution upon them of Irish justice.

That is the position this Government will ever take up in these matters. They will not be allowed to pass away. Matters which have occurred since the Treaty must be patiently pursued over many years. No nation endeavouring to maintain civilised Government and organised institutions can allow its plighted word to be brought into insult and calumny, and allow cases of deliberate murder to go unpunished. It is, I think, too soon to mock or jeer. Three months ago it was too soon to rejoice.

TOO SOON TO LAMENT.

BALANCING PROBABILITIES.

Mr. Churchill—It is still too soon to lament. I do not think that the probabilities of failure in Ireland exceed the possibilities of success. I fully recognise the very serious, chaotic state of affairs in many districts, but it has not been attended by any great loss of life. It seems to me that these conditions were almost inseparable from the decision to withdraw the troops and the Royal Irish Constabulary.

I suppose if Ireland should degenerate ultimately into a welter of chaos—which it certainly is not at the present time—a great reproach would be made on the Government for having taken away the Army and the Constabulary before they had made sure that the elections had confirmed the Treaty, and the Government installed had full powers and the machinery for maintaining law and order. That might justifiably be raised, but you must consider what might have happened had we not done so. Our troops would have got mixed up with the quarrels between the Treaty party and the Republicans. Those Irishmen who lent their support to the troops would have been held discredited by their fellow-countrymen. There might have been horrible incidents, and you might easily have a set of difficulties worse than those we have had.

We have acted, in this matter, on the advice and at the request of those upon whom we have devolved the responsibility of governing Ireland. They strongly urged that the troops should be withdrawn, for only in that way could the people of Ireland be led to believe that Great Britain intended to carry out the Treaty, and that the responsibility for governing their country had now passed into Irish hands. We took their advice, and I believe that on the whole, in spite of all that has happened, and even in spite of the possibility of worse things happening, we took the right course.

There is a great struggle going on between those Irish who accept the Treaty and Irish Free State as a fair working arrangement upon which they can build the future of their country, and those Irishmen who desire, above all things, to declare an independent Republic and to break away from the British Empire. The first class, I may say, are animated by love of Ireland, and the second class by an undying hatred of this country.

During the rounds of the contest, if I may use a sporting phrase, it became perfectly clear that a free election could have only one result. It was only when this was realised with overwhelming force by Mr. de Valera and his supporters that they began to use the threats of violence and anarchy which have disgraced the last three weeks. It was only after they felt that the majority of the nation was against them that they began to talk of wading through blood and establishing a Mexican régime.

There have been a great many affronts offered to the Provisional Government and to the dignity and self-respect of the Irish nation by individuals and groups of individuals, who have turned the Free State troops out of their barracks and shot some of their officers who were engaged in defending property, and who have defied the authority of the lawfully constituted chiefs in charge of the military forces. There have been many attempts to obstruct public meetings, many attempts to terrorise and gag the Press, and there has been an outrage in which the machinery of one of the journals was smashed. Trains have been thrown off the lines, and members of the Government, making speeches, have been received with violence and opprobrium.

I am not quite sure that those who are responsible for these outrages are very satisfied with the results. The matter is obscure. At the same time, the sense I have derived from watching this quarrel is that the Irish nation is still more confirmed in its opinion against those who are doing these things, and I am glad to see that the Irish Labour Party have, in this matter, acted with sterling good sense.

I observe a very considerable rallying of public opinion to the Government. Thousands of people make their way along roads that are obstructed to attend public meetings in support of the Treaty, although they know there will be an element there armed with revolvers, and where a serious incident might easily occur. The Press of Ireland, almost without exception, maintains a vehement, spirited contest with the forces of anarchy and disorder.

I must avow a strong confidence in the great laws of human society when they are allowed to work freely. I have confidence in the educative value of responsibility. All in Ireland now know that their fortune is in their own hands. What inducement have the Irish nation to impoverish themselves, to make themselves a laughing stock before the whole world, to make themselves a by-word, and to vindicate everything said of them by their enemies? I believe that there is a great rallying of public opinion in Ireland, and that it will continue to assert itself.

As to whether I should like to have seen the Provisional Government take this measure or that, I am bound to say that they know their own business better than we do. I believe they have persevered to hold firmly to their task. I still think, in spite of the uncertainties that overhang the future, that the prospect I have indicated is the most probable at the present time.

IN CASE OF A REPUBLIC.

THE GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE.

I have been asked to say what the Government would do in the event of a Republic being declared. I am not sure that it would be wise. The elements that are attacking the Irish Government at the present time are elements that feed on opposition to England, and if they are allowed to feel that in a cheap way they are daring England and the British Empire it would give them cause for rallying, and would not deter them from their course. In my view, I should not announce exactly what we would do.

I am anxious to avoid any appearance of putting duress on the Irish people, and it is sufficient to say that we will not, under any circumstances, tolerate the creation of an independent Republican form of Government in Ireland.

I do not know what will happen. Many people think that a Republic will be proclaimed in some parts of the country by some almost irresponsible persons. But in Ireland almost everything happens when you don't expect it, and nothing that any large number of people expect ever happens; so perhaps nothing serious will occur during the recess.

I do not think it is to be expected that the Provisional Government will be violently overturned by a revolution in the next fortnight. If it were, it is clear that very grave decisions would be forced upon the Government at very short notice, and therefore these matters have been carefully and seriously considered by the Government for some time. But I do not think it at all likely. As to whether some irresponsible individuals might call themselves a republic in this or that part of the country is another question. We should have to see what the circumstances were. I repeat that we stand by the Treaty. Whatever happens in Ireland, however many years of misfortune there may be in Ireland, the Treaty constitutes what we think should be the relations between the two countries, and we are prepared to hand over to any responsible body of Irishmen capable of governing their country all the powers which the Treaty confers.

Further than that we will go in no circumstances, and if a Republic is set up in Ireland it is a form of Government which the British Empire can in no circumstances tolerate or agree to.

Mr. Walsh rose to speak, but the House was counted out at 4.40 p.m.

WAGES OF IRISH POSTAL STAFFS.

COST OF LIVING.

POSTMASTERS AND OVERSEERS.

The Commission appointed by the Provisional Government to inquire into wages and salaries, organisation of work, and conditions generally in the Irish Post Office, resumed its sittings yesterday in Dublin.

Mr. P. J. McPhillips, Irish Postal Union, continued his evidence on the cost of living. Three-fourths of the postal workers' expenditure, he said, went on food and clothing. He agree with Mr. Johnston's figures on the subject.

Mr. Smith, Irish Post Office Controlling Officers' Association, said that this was a new body, formed after the recent break from cross-Channel organisations, and had a membership of 170; but he believed that there would be a 100 per cent. membership in due course. Supervising staffs were naturally expected to conduct their business on the lines suggested by the Postmaster-General on Monday in his speech, when he referred to the "old stern supervision."

I agree with him, said the witness, that there is plenty of room for improvement in supervising in the Post Office, and we will be very glad to give every assistance to bring the system up to date.

A controlling officer, he continued, must have something above the mere fodder allowance. They cannot even take a decent holiday. In 15 years, he continued, he had had only three decent holidays at the seaside. Instead of taking a holiday in that way every year, they were obliged to go to the country and "sponge" on their relatives. He found that that was general among supervising grades, and among the rank and file.

VERSATILE TELEGRAPHISTS.

Speaking of telegraph operators in Dublin, the witness said that they were very versatile, and were above the general standard met with in England. They were usually qualified to take up any post.

Mr. P. J. Timoney, Queenstown, Honorary Secretary of the Provincial Controlling Officers' Association, said that officials receiving more than £150 salary were not entitled to receive free medical attendance.

Miss Moore, head of the Female Sorting Assistants, Accountants' Office, of whom there are 14 in Dublin and none elsewhere in Ireland, expressed the view that the period of seven years' temporary service should be taken into consideration when fixing the basic salary on the appointments being made permanent after examination. Most of these officials lived in lodgings. The appointments were by competitive examination, there being about 100 competitors for a dozen vacancies.

To Mr. O'Duffy—She started as a temporary hand at 14s. a week, and got increases at the rate of 2s. per annum. At present the pay of those permanently appointed was lower than if they had remained temporary, because when the temporary bonus was granted they were permanent, and when the permanent bonus was granted they were temporary, so that they got neither. (Laughter.)

Mr. O'Shea gave evidence as to rates of pay and bonus of writing assistants and shorthand typists. The maximum for typists in Dublin was from 38s. to 42s. per week. The average pay of writing assistants worked out at about £1 5s., making with bonus £2 13s. 6d. They held that there should be a slight profit to the parents of these girls, who came from a class that was not well off, and could not afford any luxuries.

DEPENDENTS.

Mr. Friel—Would you not make the point that some of these girls have to contribute to the support of the family? We have considered that, and we did not consider that it was really relevant.

To Mr. O'Duffy—The girls in the classes he referred to were not all appointed by competitive examination, but were up to a good average standard in education.

The Chairman—Do you know whether the ordinary shorthand typist outside gets a higher rate of pay? I know from personal experience that in some commercial offices, such as Guinness's, the conditions are much better. We have looked upon the Post Office as the shining example which should give a lead to all other firms.

Mr. R. B. Redmond (Wicklow), representing the Head Postmasters' Association, said that there were about 59 members in the Free State. The recent "cut" had been the last straw to them, and they could not afford it. In the first three years of the war they got no bonus, while other classes got the bonus, and thus the Postmasters were crippled in the earlier part of the war. The salaries ran from £170 per annum to very much higher. With the lower grades of Postmasters it was practically impossible at present to make ends meet.

To Mr. O'Duffy—Taking Mallow as an example, the salary there was £553, and there were about 50 sub-offices. In his own town of Wicklow the area was practically 100 square miles, and there were 12 sub-offices. Originally the work of the Wicklow Postmaster was done as a side line by some shopkeeper in the town, and the same principle was still applied in the fixing of the salary.

The Chairman announced that the Commission would adjourn until 2 p.m. to-day, when it was proposed generally to close the evidence on behalf of the employés. They did not propose to meet next week, but proposed to ask the Post Office authorities to give their evidence on the 24th and 25th of April.

"SHAMEFUL SURRENDER."

MR. DE VALERA AND MR. GRIFFITH.

In a statement issued last night, Mr. de Valera says that, according to a Press report, Mr. Griffith stated at Cavan on Sunday last that the Irish plenipotentiaries "were sent to London, not on a demand for the recognition of the Republic, for Mr. Lloyd George had explicitly stated in July, verbally, to Mr. de Valera, and also in a written document which passed between him and Mr. de Valera that in no circumstances would the British Government negotiate on the basis of the recognition of the Republic."

Mr. de Valera says that of all the mean and barefaced falsehoods by which a needless and shameful surrender of a noble cause, a breach of pledged word and of public faith was sought to be covered up, there was scarcely any more brazen than the pretence that the independence and sovereignty of Ireland were abandoned before the plenipotentiaries went to London by Dail Eireann, or by the Cabinet of Dail Eireann or by him.

Having given lengthy extracts from the correspondence which passed between him and Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. de Valera says that the Irish Delegation went to London with a definite agreed plan, on the lines of which it was thought possible to reconcile Irish national aspirations with "the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire."

That plan, he says, would have safeguarded Ireland's unity, sovereignty, and declared independence, and would have eventuated, had our Delegation held firm, in an honourable agreement and a real Treaty between the two nations.

INSPIRED PASSION MUSIC.

Many great choruses are contained in to-night's selection from "St. Matthew Passion" (Bach), which will be performed in St. Patrick's Cathedral. The choruses include—"Thou that destroyest," "He saved others," "Sir, we bear it in mind." The bass solos are more numerous, one of the most beautiful being "At evening, hour of calm and rest." The tenor recitatives abound with dramatic passages—notably, "And behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain." Then in contrast the pathos of the music to the words, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" should be noticed. The second last number, "And now the Lord to rest is laid," is one of the most perfect in the whole work. The serene quietness of the music is truly the work of an inspired writer. The last chorus, "Here yet awile," is also calm and peaceful, but the character and general style of the writing is different.

DERRY TO CANADA.

The ss. Saturnia, of the Anchor-Donaldson line, is advertised to sail from Londonderry to Quebec and Montreal on Thursday, May 4th. The third class fare is £18 5s. and not £8 5s. as previously printed by mistake.

Thousands of ladies keep a box of Martin's Pills in the house. Those who use them recommend them, hence their enormous sale. Price 5s., post free. Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Prior and Co., Chemists, Londonderry, sell them, or from Proprietors, Martin, Chemists, Southampton.—(Advt.)

Hammerfest, the most northerly town in Europe, was visited by a violent snowstorm on Tuesday. A house collapsed, killing a young girl.

COUNSEL OR NO COUNSEL.

DIFFICULTY ABOUT CANAL COMMISSION.

When the Commission set up by Dail Eireann to inquire into the working of the Grand Canal system resumed its sitting in Dublin yesterday the Chairman, Mr. R. N. Tweedy, intimated his intention of adhering to his ruling of the previous day, that the examination of all witnesses lay only with the Commissioners.

Following this decision, two of the Commissioners declined to take any further part in the proceedings and withdrew. The Commission was thereupon adjourned to this morning.

The matter arose out of the appearance of Mr. Swayne, K.C., on behalf of traders and general users of the canal. The Chairman said that Mr. Swayne had on the previous day referred to the exclusion of the Irish Bar. He disclaimed any such intention. What had been in the minds of the Commissioners at the private sittings was that certain groups would find counsel of great assistance in watching evidence and in preparing rebutting evidence. The members of the Commission were each appointed by particular interests, and each was equipped with first hand knowledge of his own side of the case. No discourtesy to the Irish Bar was intended. The Chairman added that he was supported by the higher authority in the views that he had taken.

Mr. Swayne replied that he could not conceive that Dail Eireann would go to the length of depriving workingmen of the advantage of counsel's assistance, without which it was impossible for them to present their case. He would act solely as an advocate at this Commission or not at all. As long as he was a member of the Irish Bar he would not tolerate any curtailment of the privileges of counsel.

Mr. Barrington Jellett, the Commissioner representing the general trading interests concerned, observed that the Chairman had said that it was his duty to examine witnesses in connection with the interests that he represented. He did not come there as an advocate, but to hear and weigh the evidence given; and if the Chairman adhered to his ruling he (Mr. Jellett) must withdraw.

The Chairman explained that Mr. Jellett's function primarily was to represent the interest for which he acted, and to elicit evidence for the benefit of the other Commissioners.

Mr. Swayne remarked that counsel could only assist by the ordinary methods of examination and cross-examination.

The Chairman objected to the misconception which, he declared, Mr. Swayne desired the Commissioners to remain under. If a Commissioner did not understand the case or elicit evidence for the interests which he was representing, he should nominate somebody in his place.

Following further discussion, the Commission adjourned to await the result of communication with the Ministry of Transport. Later, when the Commission resumed, the Chairman intimated that his contention had been upheld, and that any Commissioner who wished to withdraw might do so. If any interest were not represented it would not be the Commission's fault.

Later Mr. Swayne, with Mr. Jellett, Mr. Geraghty (representing the canal boat-owners), and Lieutenant-Colonel McGann (secretary Private Boat-owners' Association), retired to consider the development. Returning, Mr. Jellett asked that Mr. Swayne be allowed to make a short explanation of the position.

The Chairman declined to hear Mr. Swayne, and said that Mr. Jellett was himself quite capable of making a statement.

That the inquiry would be a farce in view of the Chairman's ruling, was Mr. Jellett's opinion. He added that owners of industrial concerns on the canal and their employés, also boat-owners and their employés, would have nothing further to do with the inquiry.

Messrs. Jellett, Geraghty, and Swayne then withdrew.

The withdrawal of the two Commissioners had seriously jeopardised the prospect of the Commission, said the Chairman (after consultation with the other Commissioners), but he and his colleagues had agreed that the inquiry must go on. They would adjourn, the proceedings till the following day, and he would meanwhile see the Minister of Transport.

The Commission will resume this morning at 11 o'clock.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

DOUBLE INCOME TAX.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Several letters have appeared in the Dublin papers with regard to the future income tax to be paid on English, foreign, and Colonial securities by those resident in Ireland. At present the maximum income tax on all these securities is 6s. in the £, with a rebate for single and married people and also those with children, plus excess tax on incomes over £2,000 per annum. English securities are charged 6s. in the £, Colonial securities are charged with the Colonial tax plus 3s. in the £, and foreign securities, issued in their own countries free of income tax to residents in the British Isles, are charged 6s. in the £ British Income tax.

What is the Provisional Government doing for those resident in Ireland who hold foreign securities issued in London, free of income tax, and also for those who hold Colonial securities? The question is important to a great number of people in this country, as, if they have to pay the full English tax and a further tax to the Irish Free State, it will be impossible for them to live in Ireland. Surely some arrangement can be made to share the income tax on English securities, as is done with the Colonies of Great Britain, while our Colonial and foreign holdings can be collected through London free of English income tax and only subject to the Irish income tax, less allowances to those with small incomes. The same should apply to incomes earned in Ireland from either English or foreign agencies. The amount should be taxable in Ireland, and all salaries and commissions should be paid free of English income tax to those resident in this country, and only subject to Irish income tax.

Unfortunately, the matter is most complicated, and, therefore, some specific agreement should be come to between the Provisional Government and the English Government, which would make it possible for all those who are at present residing in the country to continue in the country without excessive penalisation. It is "up to" all of us to obey the Government by law established or else remove ourselves from the country—at least all of us who have no intention to join in rebellion against the powers that be. Therefore, suggest a clear pronouncement on the part of the Provisional Government with regard to future taxation.—Yours, etc.,

JAMES HEWETT.

TRADE BARRIERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Your correspondent, "Tractor," in his letter dated the 10th inst., attempts to link up the decision of motor manufacturers regarding exhibits at the forthcoming Spring Show with the prohibition of imports of British agricultural machinery and implements; but further inquiry in the proper quarter will prove the inaccuracy of his suggestion. If the restrictions on British farm machinery, etc., are calculated to give John Bull "a bad hump on his back," has not the Irish farmer good reason to develop a similar malformation over the admittedly senseless recent prohibition and restrictions on Irish cattle exports to Great Britain? Is Ireland to be still denied liberty to develop her home industries? Why should she not act as Australia, and permanently prohibit the import of any goods that are manufactured at home, thus relieving distress and unemployment in Irish cities and towns?

Great Britain has imposed a heavy duty on American motors to help revival of her home trade, and various key industries are also protected. Have other countries retaliated? Your correspondent appears to overlook the fact that Ireland has been, and is likely to continue, a very useful customer to England, and sympathetic retaliation would prove a double-edged weapon.—Yours, etc.,

WOODCOCK VERSUS NIGHTJAR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I have read with interest a paragraph in your issue of to-day headed "Early Swallow," reporting the arrival of a swallow in County Kildare on April 10th, and the presence of a nightjar in the same locality since the 14th of March. Considering the coldness of the present season, the swallow was fairly early; but the coming of the nightjar some two months in advance of its usual time is so extraordinary as to lead me to suggest the probability of your informant (Mr. M. O. Read) having fallen into an error.

One possible source of error in regard to the nightjar (which comes to us in May) lies in the fact that woodcocks during their nuptial season —i.e., from the end of February to the middle or latter part of June—indulge in an evening flight of about an hour's duration after sunset, which they accompany with a deep, croaking melody quite capable of being mistaken by a beginner in ornithology for the celebrated "churr" or "hum" of the nightjar.

That a confusion between these two performances is not unnatural may appear from the fact that Kingsley, who refers to the woodcock's crepuscular performance in a picturesque passage in "Westward Ho!", was accused some years ago by a writer in an English natural history journal of having mistaken nightjars for woodcocks. I venture to think that the converse mistake is much more likely to be made in Ireland, and possibly has been made in the neighbourhood of Straffan.—Yours, etc.,

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

MOTOR VEHICLE ROBBERIES.

News has been received of the robbery of nine more motor vehicles by armed men. At Dundalk station ten men with revolvers surrounded one soldier guarding a Crossley tender, while other men drove away with the vehicle, which contained three rifles. Armed men in Ballina seized a motor car and motor lorry belonging to the Belfast branch of the British Petroleum Company; a car was stolen from Dr. Quinlan, Athenry, on Tuesday night. At Youghal armed robbers took a motor car from a Belfast commercial traveller, and the Rev. W. F. Benson, Rector of Templeshanbo, Ferns, was forced to give up his car to armed raiders. A motor car belonging to Thomas Jacob, a farmer, in the same district, was also seized, while burglars broke into a Clones garage, and stole a District Inspector's car. Mr. John Lennon left his motor cycle outside Edenderry Barracks. A man walked up, mounted the machine, and drove away.

D.M.P. CHANGES AND PROMOTIONS.—The following changes and promotions have been made in the Dublin Metropolitan Police: Constable Peter Heffernan, assistant clerk, D Division, to be sergeant, and posted to C Division; Sergeant Michael Fitzgerald, F. Division, to be station-sergeant in E Division; Constable Robert Wolfe, assistant clerk in the Chief Superintendent's Office, to be sergeant in the A Division; Constable E. J. Shephard, telephone office, to be assistant clerk in the A Division. Constable John Doody, assistant clerk, A Division, is transferred to the D Division. Sergeant M. Langan is transferred to the F Division. Constable Thomas O'Halloran, C Division, and Constable J. O'Neill, D Division, are appointed to the telephone office. Constable John Cahill, B Division, is promoted to sergeant in the E Division, vice Sergeant Sloan, who retires on pension after 28 years' service.

WATER SUPPLY AT MONKSTOWN.—A correspondent writes that the residents at Monkstown are much inconvenienced by the water not being turned on until 8.30 a.m. daily. There is no supply for sanitary purposes, or for baths, at a time when most needed. The letter suggests that protests should be made to the Urban Council.

WORKHOUSE INMATES.—It was reported at the meeting of the Dublin Board of Guardians yesterday that 3,546 persons were in the workhouse on Saturday, a decrease of 217 on the corresponding period of last year, and a decrease of 14 on the previous week.

ART AND ADVERTISING.—Those interested in the art of advertising are invited to visit a poster exhibition in the premises of the Dublin Industrial Development Association, 40 Upper Sackville st., Dublin. The exhibition is open free from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

LEINSTER.

GAS BOYCOTT ENDS.—The "strike" against the price of gas in Wicklow, so enthusiastically promoted in November, has now definitely collapsed, and virtually all the townspeope are using gas at the old figure of 12s. 6d. a thousand. The company offered, at one time, to reduce the price to 11s., but this was refused.

MUNSTER.

MAIL CAR ROBBED.—The Thurles-Nenagh mail car was again "held up" yesterday, and the letters examined. Many parcels were broken open and their contents looted.

ULSTER.

LURGAN TECHNICAL SCHOOL.—At the monthly meeting of the Committee of the Lurgan Technical School, the Principal reported that the average weekly attendance at the school for the month of March was 302.7, an increase of 22½ per cent. on the attendance for the corresponding month of last year. A letter was read from the Ministry of Education, Northern Ireland, stating that the war bonus paid to whole-time teachers would be reduced by 5-26ths as from March 1 last.

ILLICIT BREWS.—At Fivemiletown Petty Sessions yesterday Charles Keys, of Bolies, was fined £100, mitigated to £6, for having in his possession 2½ gallons of poteen and a wooden still head. Peter Hackett, of Mullaghtinny, was, at Clogher Petty Sessions on Tuesday, fined £100, mitigated to £25, for having on his premises 31½ gallons of poteen "wash."

Claims amounting to £5,481 have been lodged with Ardee Rural Council on behalf of the Great Northern Railway Company (Ireland) and Northern firms for the destruction of goods on the railway at Ardee and Dunleer.

In connection with the Mater Carnival (Lotus Blossom Stall), a whist drive will take place next Wednesday at the Town Hall, Clontarf.

Listowel Hospital Committee has accepted with regret the resignation of Mr. T. O'Sullivan, relieving officer of the Ballyduff district of the Union for 50 years.

In the Dublin Police Court yesterday Winifred M. Campbell, Churchtown Park, Dundrum, was fined £5 for having sold milk adulterated with 18 per cent. of water.

John Johnson, a shoemaker, employed at the Royal Irish Constabulary Depôt, Phœnix Park, was yesterday sent for trial on a charge of having stolen a Lee-Enfield Service rifle, valued at £5 5s., from the transport yard of the Depôt.

Miss Mary Dore, Glin, has been unanimously elected relieving officer to the Tarbert, Tarmon, and Leitrim divisions of the Listowel Union, in the room of her late father, Mr. Edward Dore.

Wolahan's Bridge, near Wicklow, was damaged and rendered impassable during Tuesday night. Roads in the neighbourhood were blocked with trees and trenches. Agricultural labourers in the district are on strike.

Serious injuries to face and neck were received by Michael Thorpe, aged 20, a labourer, of Bree, Enniscorthy, by the explosion of a cartridge, which he was trying to remove from a gun by force.

A verdict of accidental death was returned at an inquest yesterday on Edward Farrell, who accidentally discharged his rifle in Custume Barrack, Athlone, on Tuesday, and received wounds, from which he died.

A request has been made by Carrickmacross Urban Council and townspeople that the despatch of the evening mail should be at seven o'clock, instead of five, as now, and that the morning delivery shall begin at eight, instead of seven.

For damages sustained by his taxicab, which ran into a road trench at Knappagh, Co. Cavan, on February 24, James Cosgrove, Carrickmacross, was awarded £50 compensation at Cootehill Quarter Sessions.

A Kingstown jury returned a verdict of death from abscess on the brain, caused by a fractured skull received in a fall, in the case of James Doran, whose brother-in-law is on remand, charged with assaulting him.

Fifty hands have been thrown out of work by the closing of Clara, King's County, flour mills.

Tullamore Rural District Council has been informed by the Provisional Government's Minister of Defence that it is illegal to pay a local police force out of the rates.

As the King's County Homes Committee is being charged for using nearly a million gallons of water a month, tests are to be made to find if there are any leakages.

CARGO OF ARMOURED CARS.

A train-ferry was yesterday engaged at the East end of the North Wall in loading military motor vehicles, which had evidently been used in the recent war in Ireland. The Admiralty-chartered steamer Divis commenced the loading at the Liffey of stores, armoured cars, etc., and will not sail until her cargo is complete.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED IRREGULAR.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

Stocks opened irregular and then became strong. The relaxation of money indicated by the Treasury offerings of 150,000,000 3¾ per cent. Certificates, compared with the previous sale of 4¼ per cent., imparted buoyancy to stocks and bonds. Speculative shares advanced 1 to 5 points. The market exhibited the greatest breadth and activity, with many new high records. The five Liberty Loan issues were sold at par, but in the late dealings profit-taking in Oils and Studebakers' Motors caused the market to close irregular.

DUBLIN.

GENERAL TONE EASIER AFTER OPENING STRENGTH. DUNLOPS STRONG AT THE CLOSE.

Contrary to anticipations, on the eve of the comparatively long Easter holidays, the Dublin Stock and Share markets offered at the opening many interesting changes in prices, with some business briskness in more than one direction. The strength and activity of the Funds was again a dominant feature. Consols closed particularly strong at a further rise of ⅛ to 58⅞. It is interesting to recall that on the conclusion of the armistice negotiations in November, 1918, Consols had actually reached 63½, while War Loan 5 p.c. did not advance beyond 96½, and the price is now 100⅛ ¼. Home Rails were more or less idle, but Dublin and Kingstown Leased Line Stock rose smartly. There were signs of latent strength in Dunlop Rubber Ord. and Parent Tyre issues, and prices improved. Textile shares were firm, with slight irregular changes. Coats and Courtaulds closed good.

The Funds were busy, with a little irregularity in price movements. Consols rose ⅛ to 58⅞ and Funding Loan ⅛ to 85⅛. War Loan 5 p.c. fell ¼ to 100⅛ ¼, and the Stock transferable by deed realised 100⅛. Victory Bonds gave way ⅛ to 89⅞ and India 3 p.c. ½ to 54⅛. Conversion 3½ p.c. Loan repeated 75⅞ and by deed 74⅞. Guaranteed Land 2¾ p.c. recovered ⅛ to 60⅛, and Irish Land 3 p.c. repeated 63⅞.

A dull tendency developed for some Bank shares. Bank Stock opened ½ higher at 222, but relapsed to 221¼ later. Munsters fell ⅛ to 6⅛. Nationals ¼ to 17¼, and Royals ¼ to 10½. Provincial Old shares were steady at 19⅛.

In Breweries, etc., Guinness Ord. repeated 39¼, the Pref. 11⅛, and J. Power and Son Pref. 18s. 4½d.

In Marconis, the Ord. eased 1½d. further to 43s. 7½d. Radio Common fetched 15s. 9d., and the Preferred 14s. 6d.

Home Rails were mostly quiet, but Dublin and Kingstown Leased Line rose 6½ to 105 x.d. and Great Southern Pref. ⅛ to 60⅛, while the Ord. repeated 49. Midland Great Western was unaltered also at 28⅛, but the 4 p.c. Deb. Stock fell ⅛ to 65, while the 4½ p.c. Debs. quoted 64½.

As regards Tramways, Anglo-Argentine 1st Pref. realised 3½ and the 5 p.c. Debs. 77⅜. Dublin United Pref. again changed hands at par.

Dunlop issues gave signs of improving. Dunlop Rubber Ord. rose 4½d. to 6s. 7½d. 6s. 9d., Parent Tyre Pref. 6d. to 11s., and the Deferred 6d. to 21s.

Drapery shares were quiet. Henry Street Warehouse fell 1s. to 15s., but Todd Burns Ord. were steady at 18s. 6d.

Manufacturing shares still tend to improve. Bleachers rose 3d. to 31s. 9d.; Coats 3d. to 62s. 6d., after opening at 62s. 9d., but later fell to 61s. 9d.; Courtaulds 7½d. to 39s. 10½d., Goulding Pref. 6d. to 81s., Lever Bros. 7 p.c. Pref. 3d. to 19s. 4½d. 19s. 6d., and Vickers 9d. to 12s. 6d.; but Cotton Ord. fell 3d. to 41s. and Spinners 1½d. to 37s. 4½d.

In Trading, etc., Thom Debs. fell ½ to 67½, and Irish Times Pref. 6d. to 60s. for a broken lot. Dublin South City Markets were 2s. 6d. better at 92s. 6d., and Dublin Artisans Dwellings realised 5½. Dockrell Debs. fetched 5 for a small lot.

Other business done included Imperial Tobacco, which eased to 59s. 3d. 59s. 59s. 1½d. Mexican Eagle Oil fell a further 6d. to 68s. 67s. 6d., and Shells, after being [illegible] lower, closed [illegible] better at 5¼. British-American Tobacco quoted 75s. 9d.

AFTER HOURS.

Dunlop issues were strongly inquired for, and up to about 7s. 7s. 3d. was called for Dunlop Rubber Ord. shares on the other side. Trade reports are evidently becoming more encouraging here as well as in America.

Bleachers rose 3d. to 31s. 9d., Coats 3d. to 62s. 6d., after opening at 62s. 9d., but later fell to 61s. 9d.; Courtaulds 7½d. to 39s. 10½d., Goulding Pref. 6d. to 81s., Lever Bros. 7 p.c. Pref. 3d. to 19s. 4½d. 19s. 6d., and Vickers 9d. to 12s. 6d.; but Cotton Ord. fell 3d. to 41s. and Spinners 1½d. to 37s. 4½d.

In Trading, etc., Thom Debs. fell ½ to 67½, and Irish Times Pref. 6d. to 60s. for a broken lot. Dublin South City Markets were 2s. 6d. better at 92s. 6d., and Dublin Artisans Dwellings realised 5½. Dockrell Debs. fetched 5 for a small lot.

Other business done included Imperial Tobacco, which eased to 59s. 3d. 59s. 59s. 1½d. Mexican Eagle Oil fell a further 6d. to 68s. 67s. 6d., and Shells, after being ⅛ lower, closed ⅛ better at 5¼ ⅜. British-American Tobacco quoted 75s. 9d.

AFTER HOURS.

Dunlop issues were strongly inquired for, and up to about 7s. 7s. 3d. was called for Dunlop Rubber Ord. shares on the other side. Trade reports are evidently becoming more encouraging here as well as in America.

BRITISH BANKING IN SPAIN.

The London County Westminster and Parrs Foreign Bank, Ltd., announces its intention to centralise its operations in Spain at its office in Madrid. The Branches at Barcelona, Bilbao, and Valencia will in a short time be discontinued, but the services and organisation of the Bank for Spanish business will be continued at Madrid—the accepted International banking and commercial centre of the Peninsula.

STEADY STOCKS.

WAR LOANS STEADY.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE "FINANCIAL NEWS" OF TO-DAY.)

There was again quite a fair turnover of business in the Gilt-edged market yesterday. Some of the other markets bore strong evidence of the near approach of the Easter vacation, but the holiday feeling never pervaded the investment groups, and in the case of the majority of the leading Government Stocks prices ruled higher. War Loan Fives, curiously enough, proved a notable exception to the general rule, for after soaring to the new high record of 100⅛, the Stock relapsed rather sharply towards the end of the session to the overnight quotation of 100⅛, and eventually finished up at 100⅛, or ⅛ down on the day. Conversion Loan was a prominent feature of strength among the favourite gilt-edged counters, advancing ⅛ to 75⅛. In sympathy with the forward movement in Conversion Loans, the 5½ p.c. Treasury A and B Bonds went better, closing ⅜ up to 109¼, and in India Government Securities the 5½ p.c. gained notoriety with a rise of ½ to 95⅝. Elsewhere a good undertone prevailed, although in some markets business was not nearly so brisk.

LONDON STOCK MARKETS FINISH FIRM.

UNDERTONE QUITE GOOD.

The approaching holidays naturally had a considerable effect on the Stock markets, but the demand for securities was quite considerable, and, although there was some easing here and there, the general undertone was quite firm. In British Funds, the 5 p.c. War Loan fell ⅛ to 100⅛, but Consols put on ½ at 58⅞. The Funding Loan rose ⅛ to 86, and the Conversion Loan gained ¼ at 75⅛.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were rather uncertain. French Fours dropped 1 to 33½ and German Threes ¼ to 2¼. Mexicans were firm. The Fives put on 1 at 69½ and the Sixes 2 at 64.

HOME RAILS, though not quite so active, were well maintained, and some good advances were made. Great Western rose 1½ to 95, Brighton A 1 to 57½, North-Eastern Consolidated 1 to 94, and South-Eastern Pref. 1 to 92.

In COLONIAL AND FOREIGN RAILWAYS, Antofagasta Ord. rose 3½ to 58½, and San Paulo also gained 3½ to 117½. "Canpacs" fell ⅛ to 160½, while in Grand Trunks the Ord. rose ¼ to 1⅞ and the 3rd Pref. ½ to 4½.

HESITATING MINES.

MOVEMENTS IRREGULAR.

While a hesitating tendency developed in some departments of the House yesterday, the volume of trading generally was satisfactory, and under the influence of the continued activity in Gilt-edged securities, the tone all round was firm. Among Mines, Kaffirs presented a somewhat irregular tendency, and public interest was not very pronounced. If there was not a big demand for the good-class shares, there was certainly very little selling, and quotations mostly finished at the overnight levels, while speculators were quietly picking up some of the lower-priced descriptions—notably, East Rand, Modder East, and Simmer and Jack. Witwatersrand Deep were easier. At the meeting the shareholders supported the minority directors, and the Finance Company is to be thrown over and the money recovered. The Cape was indifferent, and Paris, although inclined to support some of its other favourites, was doing very little in this particular section. In the Rhodesian department, Chartered were still a sticky market, and a little profit-taking caused a set-back in Tanganyika. There was, however, a big business in Selukwe, based on rumours of an important development in connection with the company's Canadian interests. The shares rose sharply to 2s. 9d. Paris bought De Beers Def., the advance in which led a general improvement in the Diamond section. Closing prices:—

BUSY INDUSTRIALS.

PRICES HIGHER.

Business in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday was on a very large scale. In some sections it rather looked as if prices had boiled over for a time, but a hardening tendency set in towards the close, and prices generally finished higher on balance. A considerable business was put through in Courtaulds, which finished 4½d. better at 39s. 10½d. Elsewhere in the Textile group, Listers rose 9d. to 22s. 6d., Bleachers ⅛ to 1⅛, while Bradford Dyers put on 6d. to 35s. Amalgamated Cottons strengthened to 11s. 6d. A.B.C. held their ground at 35s. among Caterers, and J. Lyons remained at 3⅛. Liptons put on 6d. to 22s. 6d. Among Foodstuffs, Bovrils strengthened to 23s., and Schweppes to 19s. J. Travers rose to 1⅛, but Van Den Berghs receded to ⅞. Maypoles ruled at 6s. Cables continued their advance. Easterns put on a point to 190, and the Extension shares hardened to 18⅞, while Anglo "A" strengthened to 21½. Westerns, however, slipped back to 18⅞. Marconis kept steady at 2⅛ in the Wireless group, and the Prefs. remained at 2. Canadas rallied to 8s. 6d., but Marines eased to 1⅛. Vickers suffered a set-back to 12s., after reaching 12s. 9d. at one time, and the tax free Pref. gave way to 15s. Babcock and Wilcox receded to 3. Sheffield Steel Products lost the turn at 5s. 6d. The feature was a rise in United Steels to 11s. 3d., or 1s. 9d. higher on balance. Swan Hunters rose ⅛ to 1⅛, and Consetts hardened to 1⅛. J. Brown (15s. paid) put on 6d. to 14s., and Chinese Engineering rose ⅛ to 3⅛. B.S.A. strengthened to 10s. 3d. Hadfields were called 1⅛ ex div., and Cammell Lairds 14s. ex div.

SHIPPING SHARES STRONG.

In the Shipping list, P. and O. Def. rose another 5 points to 320, and Cairn Lines and Cunard both put on 6d. to £1 and 21s. respectively, while the Prefs. of the latter rose to 81½. Brazilian Tractions exhibited strength in the Canadian-American group, finishing 3 points higher at 49, while the Pref. rose 2 to 89½. Apart from a rise of 3d. to 21s. 3d. in Forrestals, few movements of interest occurred in the Land section. Following the appearance of the highly satisfactory report, J. Barkers, which have been noticeably strong during the past few days, closed 1s. higher at 40s. 3d. Dunlops met with support, and closed 7½d. higher at 7s. 1½d., while the Debs. rose to 101½. Lever 7 and 8 p.c. Prefs. both strengthened to 19s. 6d., and J. Knights rose ⅛ to 2⅛. British Oil Cakes, however, lost 6d. at 26s. British and Argentine Meats were quoted ex div. at 26s. 3d. In the Tobacco group, B.A.T. lost 6d. at 78s. 6d., but Imperials held their ground at 59s. In the Insurance list, Prudential "B" lost part of their recent sharp advance, closing 2s. lower at 10s. 6d. For some time past the market has expressed the opinion that the advance was not altogether justified.

SUBDUED OILS.

MEXICAN EAGLES DULL.

Although moderate activity characterised the Oil Share market yesterday, the volume of transactions was decidedly smaller than of late, and a subdued tone prevailed, which, after all, is only to be expected with the approach of the holidays. Less excitement was witnessed in the dealings in the speculative favourites which have been prominent of late, and among these descriptions an easier tendency was noticeable, but strong features were provided among the leading issues. Royal Dutch, for instance, continued in good demand, and further advanced to 43. There was again some good buying of Shell Transports, to which the price responded. The demand for the various Pref. issues showed no signs of slackening, Shells 7 p.c. being in keen request, and gains also being scored by Anglo-Persian 8 and 9 p.c. One of the best features of the market was the continued strength of Anglo-Persian Ordinary, which in response to further good buying enjoyed a sharp spurt. Mexican Eagles, on the other hand, were a dull market, owing to the reduction shown in the shipments of oil for the past month. Closing prices:—

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANABLE CREDITS CURTAILED.

MARKS REACT.

The position was still very disappointing in Lombard street yesterday, and much different from what had been generally anticipated. There was a good deal of window-dressing going on, and this curtailed loanable credit. Early in the day borrowers were paying 3 p.c., and sometimes more, for night money, but funds were released later on, and accommodation was obtainable down to 2½ p.c. Fixtures were renewed at 3 p.c., and new weekly money was offered at 2¾ p.c. Discounts were firmer, due to the unsatisfactory condition of money, but business was very quiet. Fine three months' Bank bills were practically 2⅝ p.c., whilst June Treasury bills were still on offer, being 2⅞ to 2⅝ p.c., with Julys nominally 2⅞ to 2⅝ p.c. To-day promises to be very active, for the Treasury bill tenders are to be lodged after the Bank rate decision becomes known.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday.—BACON—Cable advices from Chicago were less favourable with regard to live hogs and speculative products, while larger imports were entered here, and with the nearer approach of the holidays less disposition was shown by buyers to operate. Holders, however, were generally firm, and American Wiltshires were raised 1/- to 96/- to 103/- per cwt., with late prices repeated for other selections. HAMS firmly held, and long cut dearer at 130/- to 136/-, and extra skinned now on offer at 152/- to 156/-. Shoulders firm, especially picnics, which are dearer at 75/- to 79/- per cwt. Canadian Wiltshires steady at 110/- to 120/- per 112lbs. Irish and Danish bacon firmly held, with small supplies. LARD on the spot steady, but quoted 66/- to 67/6 per cwt. CHEESE generally steady, though Canadian white favours buyers now at 93/- to 96/-. BUTTER quiet, and, with lower quotations from Denmark, Danish here is now offered at 186/- to 190/-, Australian 172/- to 178/-, and New Zealand 182/- to 185/- per cwt. EGGS quiet and easier at 13/6 to 14/6 per 120 for Irish hen.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Wednesday (Official).—Better tone, and improved demand at steady prices.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEICESTER WOOL, Wednesday.—The wool, hosiery, and spinning trades are all very moderate, and it would take little more to bring them down to the slump period of last year. Only few transactions are taking place in English wools. Spinners are finding it difficult to keep the machines at full work, and the late spring, the labour troubles, and the heavy taxation are all factors in the stoppage of orders for hosiery. There will be rather a longer holiday at Easter than is the custom in a large number of cases, but no good improvement is to be hoped for till matters are more settled in the way of industrial peace.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Wednesday.—American market quieter. Brazilian quotations reduced 10 points. East Indian unchanged. Egyptian moderate business. April 10.08d., May 10.06d., June 10.06d., July 10.06d., August 10.00d., September [illegible] 9.98d. Sales, 7,000 bales. Imports, 4,332 bales. Market steady.

COMPANY MEETINGS.

MILLAR AND BEATTY.

The annual general meeting of Millar and Beatty, Ltd., was held in the boardroom, 14 Grafton street, Dublin, on the 10th inst., Mr. Lewis H. S. Beatty, chairman and managing director, presided. Also present:—Messrs. G. H. Finlay, H. Johnston, F. Lamb, J. Robinson, directors; J. W. Ryan, secretary; Charles Gamble, C. H. Beatty, J. Hamerton, and A. Wright.

The directors' report and statement of accounts for the year to 31st January, 1922, were read and adopted. Owing to the enormous amount of depreciation that had to be written off the stock, unprecedented in the history of the firm, the report, under the circumstances, was considered highly satisfactory. The payment of a dividend of 5 per cent. on the Preference shares was confirmed, and it was decided to declare a dividend of 10 per cent. on the Ordinary shares, and to carry forward £2,197 12s. to the next account. The retiring director, Mr. F. Lamb, was re-elected. The Chairman pointed out that the firm had made a good start for the new year, having recently obtained some large contracts in both Dublin and London, and, if only some settlement could be arrived at in this country, the outlook for the future would be decidedly hopeful. Messrs. Craig, Gardner, and Co. were re-appointed auditors.

RIO TINTO COPPER.

The forty-ninth ordinary general meeting of the Rio Tinto Company was held yesterday at 3 Lombard street, London, E.C. Sir Charles W. Fielding, K.B.E., the chairman, presided, and, in moving the adoption of the report and accounts, said that after the lengthy, and what he might call "political," strike of the year 1920 their men had willingly returned to work at the beginning of 1921. During the strike, however, the demand for sulphuric acid all the world over had fallen off, and in some cases brimstone, and in a few other cases competitive pyrites, had secured some of their customers for the time being. During last year those causes together had reduced the sales of copper-bearing pyrites, and also to some extent the deliveries of washed ore. They were, however, finding that at low prices they could hold their own in most of the markets, and the forward sales they had been making in recent months indicated a rather brighter future in that respect. The world's population was not decreasing, and, as their output was needed for the production of the necessities of life, it was evident that they were likely to find the demand increasing rapidly as the world settled down once more to nearer normal conditions.

ASSOCIATED PORTLAND CEMENT MANUFACTURERS.

The twenty-third ordinary meeting was held yesterday at River Plate House, Finsbury Circus, E.C., Brigadier-General the Hon. F. C. Stanley, C.M.G., D.S.O., the Chairman, presiding.

The Chairman said:—In the report we have told you in a few words of the factors which have contributed to the reduction of profits disclosed in the accounts. I will now remind you that when I addressed you a year ago we were at the beginning of that disastrous strike in the coal trade, which lasted fully three months, and which proved to be fraught with the most serious consequences to the trade of the country as a whole. During the first three months of last year the tendency of our cost of manufacture was downward, but this tendency was arrested by the strike, owing to which our output was quickly reduced, and, in fact, could only be maintained, even at a low level, by the importation of foreign fuel of poor quality, and at a very high cost. Another factor affecting last year's trading was the Government's change of policy regarding its housing schemes. All over the country, schemes have been cut down, and in some cases abandoned, resulting in a lessened demand for cement, and incidentally in unemployment in the building trade. The cost of housing construction had undoubtedly reached an uneconomical level, and the change of policy has resulted in national economy; but now that costs have been substantially reduced I feel that before long the need of additional housing accommodation, which, undoubtedly, still exists, will become so apparent that an extended programme of construction will have to be undertaken. Money is now much cheaper, and likely to continue so, and this will materially assist in the launching of all forms of constructional work.

BRITISH BANKING IN SPAIN.

An announcement appears in another part of this issue that the London County, Westminster, and Parr's Foreign Bank intends to discontinue its branches at Barcelona, Bilbao, and Valencia, and to centralise its operations in Spain at its office in Madrid. During the war the Spanish manufacturer enjoyed an easy prosperity, but, although the national industry made some progress between 1914 and 1919, the period was more marked by profit-taking than by enterprise. The result was that when the bubble of prosperity burst last year, and the country was once more confronted with the stern realities of competition, industry became alarmed, manufacturers made frantic appeals to the Government for protection, new tariffs of a prohibitive character were elaborated, and, as the British Circular Report intimated, the prospect of future commerce between Great Britain and Spain became exceedingly gloomy.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

A meeting of Lever Debenture holders has been summoned for the purpose of passing a resolution authorising the directors to make a further issue of Debenture Stock at the same, or a lower, rate of interest. The present issue is £4,000,000 at 7 per cent. out of an authorised £15,000,000.

The arrangements for the payment of Mason and Barry's coupons on share warrants to bearer are set forth in an advertisement appearing in this issue.

The list of applications for the issue of £2,000,000 Western Australia 5 per cent. Inscribed Stock, 1935-1945, was closed yesterday morning. The prospectus appeared in the Irish Times of Monday.

Arthur Harold Bibby, Esq., D.S.O., of Messrs. Bibby Bros. and Co., steamship owners and merchants, 25 Chapel st., Liverpool, has accepted a seat on the Board of the Sea Insurance Co., Ltd., Liverpool.

Within the last few days very big rises have taken place in Mexican securities. These rises originated from the United States, and those Mexican Bonds which are not purchased for New York account have, generally speaking, not responded to the same extent as those for which there is a market in the United States. The following list may be of interest, as it gives the highest price touched in 1919 and the present quotation. It will be seen that, apart from the Mexican Light and Power Second Debentures (in which a phenomenal rise has taken place within the last week or so), they are all still below these quotations, and the Mexican N.W. are specially low, no doubt because, so far, no reorganisation plan has been submitted:—

Rumours are in circulation that the Grand Trunk Railway has not yet lodged its appeal against the findings of the Canadian Board of Arbitration concerning the physical value of the property. As the time for entering appeals expired yesterday, the matter, it is said, cannot come before the Judicial Committee earlier than July. We are officially informed, says the Evening News, that these rumours are without foundation. The company's appeal was lodged in December last, and is expected to come on for hearing during the Easter Term.

At the extraordinary meeting of shareholders of Wiggins, Teape, and Co., held yesterday, the necessary resolutions relative to the acquisition of the Consolidated Ordinary Shares of Alex. Pirrie and Sons, Ltd., were duly passed. The sale has also been ratified by the requisite majority of shareholders of the latter company.

The introduction to the annual report was read and approved. The Committee has increased its contribution to the British and Foreign Bible Society by £400 for the year ended March, 1922. The total sum remitted was £2,100. The issues for the year amounted to 32,457 Bibles, New Testaments, and Portions. During March, 14 sermons were preached and 37 meetings addressed. It is hoped to hold the annual meeting on Wednesday, May 10, 1922.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The Committee of the Methodist Union, after discussing the details of the scheme of union, appointed a sub-committee to draft a resolution for the conference on the subject of the Itinerancy. At a meeting of the Reconstruction Committee yesterday reports were presented regarding the Ards Peninsula and several other districts, and a report was ordered to be drafted for presentation to the conference.

CHAPEL ROYAL RECITALS.

Mr. W. E. Hopkins gave the last of the series of Lenten organ recitals in the Chapel Royal yesterday afternoon. The programme was made up of modern French and English compositions, and included "Fantasia and Fugue in G," by C. H. H. Parry; "Improvisations pour Orgue," by Saint Saëns, and the choral preludes, "As pants the hart" and "Abide with me" (Parry). Mr. Hopkins gave helpful explanations which considerably enhanced the pleasure derived from the recital.

IMPROVING GREYSTONES

NEW ASSOCIATION'S AIMS.

Residents of Greystones are being urged to united effort to improve their pleasant little seashore town.

Greystones has no attractions for the tripper, nor is it desired by any interest in the district that, as a seaside resort, it should be developed on such lines. It is essentially a residential area, sufficiently far from the stir and noise of city life to give the contrast of peace and quietude.

Owing to the smallness of the resident population it is without an elected authority solely concerned with its own interests. In order to secure the co-operation of all who are materially interested, the principal residents have formed an association to watch over and work for the common good of the inhabitants. This body is the Greystones Improvement Association, and its president is the Right Hon. R. R. Cherry, formerly Lord Chief Justice, with Mr. William Ireland as chairman of the committee. The membership includes such well-known people as Sir James Percy, Dr. W. S. Ross, His Honor Judge Pigot, Captain Loftus Studdert, Mr. Ireton Pennick Jones, Mr. J. J. Healy, the local clergy, etc. Mr. George Duggan is hon. treasurer, and Mr. Samuel E. Pim hon. secretary.

It is a very representative committee, and all who recognise the advantages to be gained in supporting the movement for the improvement of Greystones for the benefit of the inhabitants and visitors are invited to become members of the association.

The broader basis on which the Greystones Improvement Association has now been reformed has already attracted an increased membership, and doubtless it will be accorded the fullest measure of public support.

The aims of the association include the safety of the public, a better train service, proper street cleaning, maintaining of seats on the sea front, etc. The association will press for a better recognition by the County Council of that body's obligations to the district.

Every house-owner in Greystones, every shopkeeper merchant, and all business people are invited, in their own interests, to support the Improvement Association, and give "greater impetus to the popularity, prosperity and success of Greystones."

HOCKEY.

BUCCANEERS' EASTER TOUR.

The Buccaneers' Club are taking part in the Tournament to be held at Folkestone at Easter. Some of the crack London clubs, and teams representing the Navy and Army, are also participating, and some interesting games are therefore likely to be played. The following have been invited for the tour:—H. J. T. Browne, J. T. Ennis, R. S. Wix, R. E. Murphy, W. I. Campbell, S. G. Ronan, G. V. W. Hill, H. Hall, C. A. Gamble, E. P. Allman-Smith, V. Allman-Smith, J. Mahony, E. C. Greene, J. W. Crawford, C. Carson, H. J. McCormick.

SCHOOLS' CUP FINAL.

R.H.M.S.	2
Kingstown G.S.	1

Under wretched weather conditions at Parnevenue yesterday, R.H.M.S. defeated the holders of the Leinster Schools' Cup by a goal. Both teams played good hockey, considering the state of the ground, and the game throughout was very interesting. Up to the interval there was little between them, and they crossed over with the score at one all, Cook and Hoey being the scorers. In the second half R.H.M.S. had rather the better of the game, but could only get past the strong Grammar School defence when McMahon gave them the second and winning goal. Whitney, Cook, and Orr did well for the losers, and for the winners Frost, Evans, Reynolds, and Maher were all good. Teams:—

Royal Hibernian Military School—Carroll; Frost, Mullins; Evans, Reynolds, West; Kiernan, McMahon, Maher, O'Leary, Hoey.

Kingstown Grammar School—F. Whitney; W. Harris, G. Jenkin; G. Golding, W. C. Cook (captain), I. Varian; P. Lindsay, V. Jenkin, G. Orr, E. Winder, N. Staples.

MINOR CUP FINAL.

Royal Berks Band	2
Railway Union 3rd	1

When these sides took the field later in the evening the conditions were really bad. Rain fell heavily, and the ground was practically a quagmire. Consequently the game was something of a scramble, but was remarkable for some very accurate stick work. Up to half-time the winners were just a little more dangerous in attack, and fully deserved the goal lead—scored by Blackmore—with which they changed ends. Ford increased this lead at once, and then the game settled down to a hard-hitting, give and take struggle. Both defences proved very sound, and there was no further scoring until close on time, when Wallis netted a good goal for the losers, following a corner.

Portarlington Mixed v. Kilmeague Mixed.—Played on Monday, resulting in a draw of 2 goals all.

ASSOCIATION.

PRESS FUND MATCH.

SENIOR LEAGUE v. FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

The return match between teams representing the Leinster Senior League and the Football League of Ireland, on behalf of the Newspaper Press Fund, which will be played to-morrow at Shelbourne Park, is attracting a good deal of attention in local "Soccer" circles. The first match at Dalymount Park resulted in a draw, but for to-morrow's game the Football League have made a number of changes in their team, with the view to strengthening the side. The match will start at 4 o'clock, and the teams will be as follow:—

Leinster Senior League.—Bendal (Richmond); Malone (Shelbourne United), Kelly (Shamrock Rovers); D. Kelly (Brooklyn), Moore (Pioneers), Connell (Midland Athletic); Campbell (Shamrock Rovers), McLoughlin (Glasnevin), Flood and Fullam (Shamrock Rovers), and Butler (Pioneers).

Football League of Ireland.—Coleman (St. James's Gate); Daly (Olympia), Parslow (Bohemians); McKay and Heaney (St. James's Gate), Connolly (Shelbourne); Brierly (Shelbourne), Houston (Jacobs), Shea (St. James's Gate), Smith (Jacobs), and Norman (Frankfort).

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE AMERICAN TOUR.

The Mount Washington (Baltimore) Club on Tuesday defeated the Oxford and Cambridge Lacrosse team by 7 goals to 2.

LAWN TENNIS.

COVERED COURTS CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Although there were some attractive matches in the mixed doubles and in the men's doubles, all interest in yesterday's play at Queen's Club, London, was focussed on the semi-finals for the Men's and the Ladies' Singles Championships. As the result, Mrs. Craddock and Mrs. Edgington survived to meet in the final of the challenge round for the right to meet Miss Holman for the ladies' title, while in the men's singles B. I. C. Norton (the South African) and R. Lycett meet in the final to-day to decide who challenges the famous Frenchman, A. H. Bobert. Lycett beat Romaswami (the Cantab) by three sets to love—6-2, 6-3, 6-3, but Romaswami was not at his best, while Lycett was in fine form and drove with great power, and always had the match won. In the other match F. G. Lowe played splendidly. He had the match well won, the scores being 8-6, 6-2, and 5-4 in his favour when he retired for reason that he is leaving for Spain to-day as a member of the British Davis Cup team, and could not have played in the final. Mrs. Craddock and Miss Kemmer Betty had a great battle in the first of the ladies' semi-finals. Miss Betty, after losing the first set at 6-4, made a great effort to secure the second, but her opponent made the scores 5 all and 6 all, and finally won the set and match by 9-7. Mrs. Edgington played with fine perseverance against Mrs. Clayton to win the match by 6-3, 6-1. The finals will be played to-day, and challenge matches on Saturday.

YALE-HARVARD TEAM FOR ENGLAND.

Boston, March 29.—Arrangements to have a joint lawn tennis team of Yale and Harvard players go to England in July to return the visit here last summer of an Oxford-Cambridge combination were made to-day. Reservations for six players on the steamship Aquitania, leaving New York early in July, were made.—(Reuter.)

RECONSTRUCTION

FALL IN PRICES OF BUILDING MATERIALS.

The private builder is looking forward to the time when he will be able to resume work of a kind which is best entrusted to private enterprise. Prices of materials which he has to use are steadily falling. In some cases the cost will have to be reduced still further, but manufacturers are no longer able by combination to extort any price they like to put on their goods. The approximate average charge for all materials compared with rates prevailing at the beginning of last year is estimated by an expert to be lower by 30 per cent., but some things are 50 to 60 per cent. cheaper. Importation from the Continent has been a considerable factor in bringing prices down, but an influence almost equally effective may be found in the suspension of demand brought about by charges which were raised to quite impossible figures.

The cost of doors and window-frames is still falling. Imported doors have made short work with inflated joinery prices. Tiles have also been imported to an enormous extent, but the material needs careful selection, as some of the tiles are of poor quality. Fire grates, coppers, boilers, baths, rain and water pipes, and other light castings are 27½ per cent. cheaper than they were six months ago. Enamelled sanitary ware such as lavatory basins, on the other hand, is regarded as being still too expensive. The thing that matters is that price "rings," as the associations of manufacturers which in recent years have controlled prices are regarded by large sections of the public, are no longer the formidable force they were, and as competition obtains more play costs are coming down in a way which promises soon to enable builders to make quotations which local authorities and private individuals alike will be able to consider.

£385 HOUSES.

The Borough of Nuneaton has accepted a tender for the erection of 24 houses at £9,246, a price which works out at £385 5s. each.

This constitutes a "record" for Great Britain, the previous lowest being £388 at Risca, Monmouthshire, stated in this column last week.

Similar houses were built at Nuneaton about two years ago at a cost of nearly £800 each.

The great reduction is attributed to the fall in the price of bricks and other materials, reduced cost of haulage, and reduced wages.

The Hon. the Irish Society, who are owners of the fishery, have turned down the proposal of the Coleraine Urban Council to utilise the water at the Cutts, or Salmon Leap, for generating electricity. The ground of rejection is that the scheme would injure the fishery.

BUILDING EXHIBITION AT OLYMPIA.

A HOPEFUL OUTLOOK.

The Building Exhibition opened at Olympia on Tuesday is one indicating that, after a very long period of stagnation, the building trade is becoming more hopeful. Once again there is a prospect that houses may be built by private enterprise, and with this hope in view the average builder is beginning to look round for new ideas. Some really remarkable efforts are on view. One firm has built up a beautiful old Elizabethan dwelling of two storeys, while there are several other buildings less ornate in character but quite as convincing as residences. There are many other exhibits not, perhaps, so ornamental, but quite as necessary in the general building scheme. Concrete blocks of all kinds, now so much used in house building, are shown, reinforced in some cases and hollow in others. Wonderful woodwork and elaborate wall papers, with many decoration schemes, are on view, to say nothing of scores of things which will appeal more to the housewife than anybody else. There is a kitchen fitted with everything that heart can desire, and including all the newest labour-saving appliances.

The Exhibition will close on Good Friday, but will be opened again on Saturday and on Monday next, and thence every day until April 27.

THE EXHIBITS.

The stall of the Australia Concrete Machinery and Engineering Co., Ltd., has some massive machinery, of which the Speedy Crusher is a type. This is a belt-driven machine, fitted to crush clinker bricks and shingle in record time. The powder resulting can be mixed in one of the company's Tonkin mixing machines, which mixes up any sort of material equally well. It can deal with sloppy, wet, or semi-dry concrete, and any other material. A concrete block-making machine shown here can complete the work, for it has an output of 250 blocks in a day of eight hours, while a simple form of block can be turned out at the rate of 400 in a day by an unskilled man.

The exhibit of the Beaver Board Company is a very interesting one, for it has many beautiful examples of the fine workmanship achieved by this firm in the preparation of a pure wood fibre wall board. The panels are in some cases most artistic, and in others adapted for hard wear. They are so prepared that they can be simply nailed to the studding and ceiling joists of a room finished with paint and distemper, and thus complete an excellent panel effect. These boards are popular because they are permanent and sanitary, and do not crack or disintegrate, while they are non-conductors of sound, heat, and cold. The same firm manufacture roofings which should prove most serviceable, for they are made on a rag felt base, and thoroughly saturated with pure natural asphalt. Another feature is "Bestwall," an ideal gypsum product in panels for partitions, walls, and ceilings.

Messrs. Hadfields (Merton), Ltd., have an excellent display of their paints and varnishes. Actual demonstrations are given of transforming bare wood and surfaces, old and new, to a brilliant gloss finish in two coats. The results obtained with "Heolin" colours are in every way satisfactory. The black is unusually dense, while the white is clear and definite. Over a hundred housing schemes have been decorated with "Heolin" paints, and the extensive use on public institutions indicates their merit.

The Turner Brothers Asbestos Company have a stand which has been erected as a practical illustration of the use to which their famous tiles may be put. These tiles are manufactured on scientific lines from the finest material procurable. The Trafford tile is not to be regarded as an imitation or copy of corrugated steel sheet roofing in a material which is entirely different, but it is designed with the idea of obtaining the maximum effective strength from the asbestos cement employed, with complete efficiency and a maximum covering capacity, with great simplicity of fixing.

Messrs. Robert Blackwell and Co., Ltd., whose speciality is self-finished Bitumen roofing felt, stage a considerable range of their products. The felt is a slate-coloured rubber-like material, for waterproofing wood and concrete roofs, made from densely compressed wool felt saturated with Bitumen, with a layer of Bitumen on both outside surfaces, making a lasting waterproof roofing felt, which does not dry or crack or become brittle. It is not affected by extremes of temperature. The stand also shows samples of "Metyar" anti-corrosive metal varnish, a reliable, black anti-corrosive solution for preserving all descriptions of iron and steel work, and an ideal solution for renovating corrugated iron roofs.

The steel tent display of Mr. George Blay is a well-known and highly appreciated exhibit. These tents, which are Government surplus stock, are unused, and all parts are packed in the original bundles. The roofing consists of double sheets of 22 gauge flat steel, strengthened at joints by a lapped corrugation, so constructed as to eliminate any damp which may arise from condensation, and which further acts as a non-conductor, keeping the tent cool in the summer and warm in the winter. The system of construction is such that no centre supports are necessary; thus the whole of the interior is quite free from obstruction. The wall sheets are 24 gauge, new galvanised iron, securely fixed in double steel slides, bolted both top and bottom to stout steel angles, thus making the structure perfectly wind and weatherproof. Ample light and ventilation are provided by two steel windows, and a louvre cowl, with which the door is supplied, complete with fittings. Floors are included, constructed of tongued and grooved flooring, strongly braced together in four sections, thus completing a sound portable and economical structure, suitable for summer houses, bungalows, pavilions, housing schemes, shooting boxes, etc. Each tent can be erected in a few hours with unskilled labour.

The Climbing Steel Shuttering Company is responsible for an ingenious appliance enabling a concrete wall to be built to any height and any thickness. It consists of galvanised steel plates, which are wired together by wires. After the concrete has been filled in, and stiffened, the lower wires are cut, and by using the upper wires as hinges the plates are turned up ready for a new charge of concrete. Thus the top wires, after acting as supports for the plates during the filling process, afterwards act as hinges for the plates to be turned then as lower wires, which are cut as the plates are revolved for a higher row. This method of wall building certainly possesses the merit of simplicity in a marked degree.

Messrs. Walter Carson and Sons show a great variety of their pure liquid paints for high-class exterior and interior decoration. In addition to the paints, which are so well known, a display is made of that effective priming for old and new porus plaster walls, "Muraprime." This stops suction and ensures the fixing of colours on wall papers prior to the use of distemper. There are samples of "Muraline," a splendid water paint in forty shades, which is to be obtained in a dry powder. This has the great advantage of being a most durable and washable paint.

The Crittall Manufacturing Company exhibit consists of several examples of their well-known window products, particularly the standard metal windows now being so generally adapted in housing schemes on account of their great durability and cheapness. A number of examples of some handsome bronze doors and windows are shown, including one of the entrance doors for the new London County Hall, all the doors of this vast building having been ordered from this firm. Amongst other novelties shown, Fenestra paneling is of particular interest, being a new and economical method of covering walls with hard wood panels, and also for constructing partitions of similar materials.

Millers Timber and Trading Company found it impossible to obtain sufficient space at Olympia to do justice to the very wide range of machines they are now turning out. Consequently they have arranged a large collection of photographs of typical machines, and have made arrangements to convey visitors to see any of them in operation at their works. Many of these machines are now famous for the work they can accomplish, including as they do the Osgood steam shovels, petrol-driven concrete mixers, steam concrete pavers, Cummer asphalt plants, tructractors, wagon and bag loaders, portable crushers, and bins.

The stand of the London Warming Company will be one of the most popular as far as the ladies are concerned, for it has several examples of domestic cooking and heating apparatus which would be welcomed in any household. The "Kooksjoie" has no dirty flues to clean, and, in addition, affords a great saving of fuel and has a constant hot water supply. Then there is the "Wifesjoie," a one-ring gas cooker, with a hot water service. It is claimed that this stove cooks for a family while heating 15 gallons of water at an average cost of 2d. per hour.

The stall of the Telephone Manufacturing Company is in an attractive situation in the gallery, and here is shown the latest inventions of the company. The loud-speaking telephone for use in any building enables a director or manager to hear messages from any part of the works, and to reply without going near the instrument or picking up a receiver or transmitter. The incoming voice distinctly carries to 40 feet, and from that distance the reply is given in an ordinary tone. Here also is demonstrated the Laryngaphone, which has no mouthpiece. Its operation is such that, no matter how loud or penetrating the surrounding noise may be, the telephone conversation is carried on with perfect results. Successful tests have been made with ships' riveters at work near by, in the machine rooms of printing offices, and in ship engine-rooms.

The efficiency of dust collection by suction is shown by the steady growth in the adoption of the system. The Sturtevant Engineering Co., Ltd., have played a prominent part in the progress of the vacuum method, and fifty years' experience in the design of piping installations has enabled them to bring their instruments to their present position. The Sturtevant Turbine vacuum cleaning plants are now installed in a very considerable number of buildings of various sizes, being laid on in a similar manner to water, gas, and electricity. The piping is run to all parts of the building, hose connecting points being placed at frequent intervals. Then by plugging in a length of flexible suction hose at any of the connections, the dust in the vicinity can be swept up with great rapidity and conveyed to the dustbin in the basement. Not only are their plants suitable for cleaning carpets and upholstery in the most efficient manner possible, but they are now being used for effectively and rapidly sweeping bare floors of all kinds, linoleum, walls, plaster-work, and such surfaces. This machine has the eminently satisfactory characteristic that it adjusts itself automatically to give the correct volume and velocity of air at the cleaning tools for cleaning all kinds of surfaces, whether carpeted or uncarpeted.

The productions of the Torbay and Dart Paint Company are most effectively displayed in several instances, notably on the stands of the Winget Company and the Beaver Board Company. The Torbay paints are found to be so well adapted for wood panelling and such work that they have already made a marked place for themselves

ATHY, CO. KILDARE.
IMPORTANT SALE OF TENANT'S INTEREST IN THREE CHOICE FARMS.

ROBERT BELL has been instructed by Mr. Patrick Dooley to SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION,
On TUESDAY, APRIL 18th, 1922,
At 12 o'clock (Summer Time), at
THE TOWN HALL, ATHY.

The valuable Interest and Goodwill in part of the Lands of Coolroe, containing 178a. 3r. 15p., or thereabouts, Statute, situated in the Barony of Narragh and Rheban West, and County of Kildare, subject to a Land Purchase Annuity of £76 17/6, payable half-yearly to the Irish Land Commission. P.L.V., £100 5/-.

There is a substantial, well-built Modern Two-storeyed Residence, containing 2 reception rooms, tiled hall, 3 family bedrooms, dressingrooms, kitchen, close range; back kitchen tiled.

The Out-offices are commodious, and consist of stabling for 4 horses, barn, 28 x 18; workman's apartments, 13 x 18, and cart and implement shed, 21 x 18. The entire range of offices is brick and stone-built and slated, with loft running the entire length. There is also a good shed, 40 x 18, roofed with iron, and concrete piggery, 16 x 12, and a concrete structure, 40 x 13, which includes a boiling house and loose yard stock shed; good stall-feeding shed for 17 head, stone-built, and slated, with concrete floor, also a loose feeding shed, brick and stone-built and slated, with enclosed yard.

The entire building is in absolutely perfect order, and requires no outlay for repairs.

The Lands are well fenced, and in excellent heart. Farming operations will be carried out to day of Sale, and the then existing crops will be taken over by purchaser at the actual cost, particulars of which, with samples of seed, will be produced at Sale.

There are about 23 acres of 1st Lea, 21 acres manured ground, 14 acres second manured, 9 acres for green crop, with manure on headland, 22 acres pasture, and 22 new grass.

This desirable Farm is situated 1½ miles from Athy, monthly fairs, and weekly markets.

LOT 2.—Part of the Lands of Woodstock North, containing 15a. 0r. 24p., or thereabouts, Statute, situated in the Electoral Division of Athy, Barony of Narragh and Rheban West, and County of Kildare, held in fee, subject to annuity of £19 6/10, payable half-yearly to the Irish Land Commission, which began on June 1st, 1904. P.L.V., £19.

This choice division is in permanent grass, well fenced, and situated close to the Town of Athy.

LOT 3.—(a) Part of the Lands of Coolroe, containing 13 2 37 acres, Statute, situated in the Barony of Narragh and Rheban West, and County of Kildare. P.L.V., £17 5/-. (b) Part of the Lands of Woodstock North, containing 10 1 23 acres, Statute. P.L.V., £10 5/-. And (c) Part of the Lands of Town Parks, Parish of Church Town, containing 13 2 15 acres, or thereabouts, Statute. P.L.V., £16. A b and c are held in fee, subject to annuity of £29 10/10, payable half-yearly to the Irish Land Commission, from June 1st, 1904. Total P.L.V., £43 10/-.

On Part A there is a substantial stone-built and slated Residence, containing sittingroom, kitchen, and 2 bedrooms. The out-offices are in every way suitable to the holding, and consist of slated 3-stall stable, slated barn, 27 x 15, with concrete floor; enclosed implement shed, 27 x 18, roofed with iron; stall-feeding shed for 15 head, iron roofed, and in haggard a 45-ton hay barn. These lots (a, b, and c) are all in grass, excepting 5½ acres on Lot A, which is let out in green crop.

This desirable holding is, as regards the major portion, situated within ½ miles of Athy.

For further particulars, Terms, and Conditions of Sale, apply to THOMAS F. MONKS, LL.D., Solicitor having Carriage of Sale, 27 Molesworth street, Dublin; or

DON'T BE
pessimistic, or low-spirited. When a person is out of sorts, small matters are more trying than they otherwise would be, and life's little worries have an exaggerated importance. Many people at times suffer from lack of energy for no apparent reason. They feel nervously irritable and are disposed to be rather

DOWN-HEARTED
The cause, usually, is some functional irregularity or disturbance of one or more of the important organs of digestion and assimilation. If you have indigestion and allow it to persist, your food will not nourish you as it should do and your general health will begin to suffer. Irregularity of the bowels and sluggish liver give rise to headache, nausea, bilious attacks, giddiness, flatulence and impure blood. Should you be so troubled, you cannot do better than a course of the world famous aperient and tonic medicine, Beecham's Pills, which, used in accordance with the directions, eliminate impurities from the system, gently stimulate the stomach, liver and bowels to natural activity and restore strength and tone. Out-of-sorts feelings will vanish and you will be lighter, brighter, fresher and more "fit." Everyone is the better for a little suitable corrective medicine occasionally, and you can always with safety and confidence make use of

TAKE
